Agricultural Scientists Carry Out Researchers 'Amid the Alien Corn' ---

In a constant effort to develop strains of corn with improved characteristics which can be incorporated into new hybrid varieties, agricultural scientists sometimes come up with some odd results. Three examples grown in the research nursery of the Missouri Farmers Assn., near Marshall, are displayed by three pretty Missouri girls. Left, Janet Grubb holds a strange-looking ear which has husk covering each kernel as well as the ear itself. Center, Joanne Debenedetto displays an exotic ear of red popcorn that resembles a huge strawberry. The ear of corn with an extremely small cob, held by Mary Howell, right, wouldn't be much good for a corncob pipe, but it has other desirable features: large ear, small cob and long, deep kernels.

Council Plans Traffic Light Improvements

Council Gets Hayes Proposal

Reservoir Fishing Suggestions Made

Utilities Superintendent Aubrey Hayes went to bat last night for sportsmen who want the Salem reservoir opened for controlled fishing.

Appearing at a City Council "committee of the whole" meeting, Hayes presented to the legislators a rough draft of a proposed ordinance which would provide at the reservoir a recreational area with certain controlled privileges, including a picnic area, parking area, licensed fishing and boating.

Hayes told Council that a majority of the members of the Utilities Commission is in favor of a controlled program at the 68-acre reservoir which is owned by the city.

Here are some of the key recommendations in the program proposed by the utilities superintendent:

1. Fishing would be of the liberal type without limit as to size or number.

2. It would be unlawful to swim in the lake at any time.

3. All money collected from rentals, fishing permits, boating

Pedestrians Will Benefit From Changes

'Walk' Signals Held Too Costly; Police Come Under Attack

The city will begin experimenting this week with traffic signals at the downtown intersections in an effort to improve the safety factor for pedestrians trying to cross the streets.

City Council, meeting as a "committee of the whole" last night, set aside as being too costly a recommendation by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer that "walk" and "wait" signals be installed at the intersections.

The legislators instead suggested that the lights be set so that they will turn red for all traffic at the same time for a short period during each cycle. This would permit pedestrians to cross the intersection in any direction.

Council also asked the mayor to look into the costs of hiring an auxiliary policeman to be stationed at the busy E. State St.-Lincoln Ave. intersection, at least during peak hours of traffic.

Councilman Fred Koenreich (D, at-large) said he thought the city police department ought to be able to provide some relief for an auxiliary policeman if one is hired.

Carl Abe (R. at-large) and Ralph Zimmerman (R. 4th-ward) both stated that in their opinions it was just wishful thinking to talk about the police department

Bargaining Session Disappointing

New U.N. Secretary Plans Get Delayed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.S.-Soviet negotiations on a successor to the late U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold were reported snagged today on the timing of a statement to be given by the nominee and the nationality of a fifth secretariat deputy.

A U.S. spokesman said a two-hour bargaining session with the Soviets Tuesday failed to produce any agreement. "We made no progress. We are disappointed," he said.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin claimed the Americans "took a step backward" in discussion of when the new interim secretary-general should make a statement promising close collaboration with his deputies in his daily work.

The proposed statement is a modification of the original Soviet demand that deputies representing the world's major political groupings have a virtual veto over the secretary-general's actions. The Soviets want the statement promising collaboration delivered before the nominee's name is proposed to the Security Council, which must make the nomination to the General Assembly.

Zorin said the U.S. delegation Monday "handed us a memorandum saying the nominee should make a statement before his appointment." Tuesday he said, "they said he should make it afterward."

According to informed sources, the Americans said that due to a tplist's error their statement originally contained the clause that the nominee would promise collaboration "if appointed to this post."

The informants said the Soviets had dropped their demand for appointment of only three principal advisers to the secretary-general —from the Western, Communist and neutralist blocs—and agreed with the United States on five.

But a second standoff reportedly developed over the fifth deputy, with the Soviets wanting an East European and the Americans a West European. Both sides, it was said, agreed the other four should come from the United States, the Soviet Union, Latin America and Africa.

Volcano Threatening Tiny Island

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—The 260 stunned men, women and children of Tristan da Cunha spent a night of agony on a rocky outcrop in the South Atlantic, eyeing the glow of a volcano that threatens to destroy their island homes.

The refugees fled Tuesday aboard two small fishing boats from earthquakes and volcanic eruptions that began Sunday on Tristan da Cunha, a 40-square mile speck of land halfway between South Africa and South America and one of the most remote islands in the world.

The refugees fought their way through 13 miles of dangerous seas and waded ashore at Nightingale Island, a bleak, uninhabited rock a mile long and three-fourths of a mile wide, to spend the night and await a Dutch liner coming to take them to Cape Town.

The islanders will wait here while nature decides the fate of the island where they and their forebears have lived in almost complete isolation for 150 years.

Scarcely a dozen of the 260, the total population of Tristan, had ever left the British-ruled island. Their knowledge of the outside world is based on books, films, radio and hearsay. The populace refused evacuation during World War II.

Plans called for a small group of volunteers to stay behind on Nightingale Island to watch the course of the eruption—the first in modern times on the island—and return to Tristan if anything is left. They will act as caretakers until the others can return, tending the island's handful of sheep and cattle and its tiny fruit and potato crops.

Tristan's 7,640-foot high volcano, which occupies most of the island, was reported erupting heavily Tuesday night, perilously close to the lone settlement of Edinburgh.

Third Atomic Blast Touched Off By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has touched off another underground nuclear blast, the third announced since resuming tests last month.

The Atomic Energy Commission said Tuesday's test at its Nevada underground facilities was of a low yield. The AEC gave no details on the test.

Sam Rayburn Now Has Pneumonia

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn today developed pneumonia in addition to cancer.

A hospital bulletin Tuesday said the 79-year-old Rayburn's condition was critical but added: "His spirits are good. He has indicated great interest in the newspaper highlights of the President's visit yesterday which have been read to him."

Hospital officials did not elaborate, but the final sentence carries at least a hint that by reading only the highlights those near Rayburn are shielding him from from the extent of his illness.

He received his third dose of an experimental drug, 5 Fluoro-Uracial, Tuesday.

"So far he is showing no ill effects from the treatment," the hospital said.

Lodge Refuses Senate Drafting

Desires Not To Run In Massachusetts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's home state of Massachusetts will have one of 1962's liveliest Senate races if Henry Cabot Lodge—who says he can't be drafted—ends up a candidate for the Republican nomination.

An effort to bring Lodge, the 1960 GOP vice presidential nominee, into the race was launched Tuesday by a group headed by Paul Vaitses Jr., a Boston attorney.

Lodge promptly told newsmen "I cannot be drafted. No attempt to draft me has my approval."

The former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations now is associated with Time, Life and Fortune magazines as an adviser on international affairs. He lost his Senate seat to Kennedy in 1952.

Vaitses said later he wasn't surprised at Lodge's reaction. He said the Draft Lodge Committee will meet soon to see what to do next.

Should Lodge end up making the Senate race, he would be joining Richard M. Nixon, former vice president and the 1960 GOP presidential nominee, in trying for a comeback at the polls. Nixon is seeking the California governorship.

The Draft Lodge group would have no assurance, of course, that he could have the Republican nomination. That might depend on whether GOP Gov. John A. Volpe wants another term in the statehouse or would like to try for the Senate.

Volpe demonstrated his pulling power in winning in 1960 by a margin of 138,000 votes while Kennedy was carrying the state by more than a half million.

National headquarters Republicans think they would have a strong candidate in either Volpe or Lodge. They look with some glee on what they believe is a developing cleavage among Massachusetts Democrats.

This involves the scarcely disguised differences between factions headed by Kennedy and

Rayburn Receives Message From Ike

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Ailing Sam Rayburn received this message Tuesday from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower:

"Dear Mr. Sam:

"I am sure you will agree that I've known my share of tough and sturdy men. On the knowledge thus gained, I predict that the rugged Sam Rayburn is going to come out of this illness with colors flying. Next January I shall, by television, see you in your accustomed place on the rostrum when the president delivers his State of the Union message, a completely recovered native Texan rapping for order.

"With the warm regard of your 'vicarious' constituent.

"Captain Ike"

A Rayburn aide said the speaker referred to Eisenhower as "Captain Ike" in Eisenhower's early Army days, and called him his "vicarious constituent" because Eisenhower was born in Rayburn's congressional district.

Gromyko Returns To Moscow

British Pledge Full Support In Berlin

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko left for Moscow today with word for the Kremlin that the British government fully supports U.S. determination to defend Western interests in Berlin.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the opening session of the Conservative party conference at Brighton that the Western Allies have at last convinced the Russians they will resist interference with the West's access routes to Berlin.

"If there was interference with access to West Berlin a fight would start," Home said, "and no one can say that it would not end in the ultimate disaster of the nuclear exchange. I think that we succeeded in convincing Gromyko that that situation must not be allowed to arise."

Gromyko, after outwardly cordial meetings Tuesday with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Home, steadfastly maintained the Soviet determination to sign a peace treaty with East Germany. He refused to say, however, whether the Russians would carry out their previous threat to sign the treaty before the end of the year.

Gromyko described his London talks, which followed similar meetings in the United States with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, as "very useful."

Gromyko's three weeks of contacts with Western statesmen produced no sign of relaxation of either the Soviet or Western positions except for indications that the Soviet end-of-the-year peace treaty deadline might have been postponed. This and Soviet talk in recent days about the necessity for peace appeared to take some of the heat out of the crisis.

The usually dour Gromyko flashed smiles, V's for victory and a new troika sign to news-

Red Warnings To Be Ignored By Allies

BERLIN (AP)—The United States, Britain and France are expected to ignore a sharp Communist warning against plans to send West German traffic policemen into West Berlin to help the overworked local police.

East Germany's Communist regime declared Tuesday night that any attempt to bring West German police into West Berlin by land or air would be considered aggression and be met accordingly.

The East German official news agency ADN said a note handed to diplomats of the Western powers in Prague, Czechoslovakia, asked the United States, Britain and France to stop the proposed movement.

The Allies, who do not recognize the East German regime, have never acknowledged such communications in the past.

Scarbeck's Spy Trial Reveals Reds' Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck was given a decanter and six glasses as a going away present by Polish Red agents he is accused of furnishing with secret U.S. documents, says an FBI agent.

The agent, Patrick M. Rice, went over much of the same ground Tuesday that was testified to previously—that Scarbeck, 41, was surprised by Polish agents in bed with his mistress, Ursula Discher, 22, and that he was blackmailed into turning over embassy secrets to the Communists.

This was the third account of confessions Scarbeck allegedly gave to State Department security agents and FBI men. Defense Counsel Samuel Klein is objecting to admitting any of the statements. The argument is being heard without a jury until Judge Leonard Walsh rules on the point.

Scarbeck, former second secretary of the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw, is being tried on charges of giving four classified papers to Polish agents.

Klein said he plans to put Scarbeck on the stand before argument is completed on whether the alleged confessions can be admitted into evidence.

Rice's account of what he said Scarbeck told him June 7, 8 and 9 in Washington included a description of how Scarbeck became involved with Miss Discher.

On Sept. 4, 1959, the day he packed off his German-born wife and their children for a visit at her parents' home in Germany, Miss Discher called the embassy about a job, Rice said.

Scarbeck answered and told her he was "intrigued by her voice." He made an immediate date. After a few more dates, he persuaded her to drive with him as far as the Polish border on his way to Germany to bring back his wife and family. On the way he made advances and "she acquiesced and they did have intimate relations."

On the night of Dec. 22, 1960, in Warsaw Polish agents burst into the girl's room and photographed the pair in bed.

The agents threatened, according to the testimony, to take action against both of them if Scarbeck didn't give them secret information.

Among the threats they made was that they would put Miss Discher in a prison "where she would be subject to particular indignities — made available to soldiers and the like," testified State Department security officer Charles W. Lyons.

Labor Refuses To Admit Hoffa

But Unions Unwilling To Fight Teamsters

NEW YORK (AP) — Organized labor's leadership, having refused to take back the expelled Teamsters Union, appeared equally unwilling today to declare open war on James R. Hoffa's controversial truck drivers organization.

After overwhelmingly voting down a proposal to end a four-year Teamsters exile for alleged corruption, the AFL-CIO Executive Council met to consider forming a rival union to try to snatch members away from Hoffa.

Hoffa replied to the challenge at Portland, Ore., saying: "We'll meet them anywhere, any time, and we'll come out on top."

Hoffa told the Western Conference of the Teamsters Union that the Teamsters are not asking to return to the AFL-CIO. If they ever did so, he added, it would be with the understanding that they could run their own affairs and organize workers without worrying about jurisdiction.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, made a counterdrive against the 1.5 million-member Teamsters look attractive by reporting here that some 100 of the nearly 900 Teamsters locals have applied to quit Hoffa's outfit and come into the main labor federation.

Action Is Filed In School Dispute

LISBON — A petition for writ of mandamus was filed late Tuesday by the state and Fred J. Johnson of Summitville against the Columbiana County Board of Education and Supt. James L. McBride, clerk of the board, to make the school board place the issue on the ballot for a vote of Franklin Local School District residents.

Johnson claims that from Jan. 1 to June 15, 1960, the Franklin board requested a study be made for consolidation of Franklin School District with neighboring districts in Carroll County. He claims a survey was made by Ohio University from Franklin Local and Southern Local School District but never one with Fox, Augusta, East Districts in Carroll County.

He claims a petition of over 55 per cent of voters in Franklin Local District was presented to the Columbiana County school board to have their district transferred to Carroll County but Donald W. Elliott, president of the county board, refused the petition and to have it placed on the ballot, because the board already had consolidated Franklin with the former Southern Local School District.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard has not set a hearing date in this action.

UAW, Ford Meeting With Dual Mission

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers' International Executive Board meets tonight with a double mission—to review the Ford Motor Co. negotiations and to consider what to do about the American Motors Corp. contract.

Top-level Ford and UAW negotiators were to resume sessions today on the last two national non-economic issues standing in the way of ending the nine-day-old strike of 120,000 hourly paid Ford workers.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, said there is a possibility of an all-night session tonight.

The union is driving to get a new contract in time to present it to a scheduled meeting of its Ford Council Thursday afternoon.

The two remaining non-economic national problems at Ford are production standards and a union demand for more company-paid union representatives to handle plant grievances.

Reuther and Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president and company bargaining chief, said both issues were discussed Tuesday but nothing was decided.

Reuther said the executive board meeting will hear reports from UAW regional directors around the country on the progress of local Ford negotiations. The wage package already has been settled.

Another problem facing the board is that of the AMC contract rejection by Local 72 at Kenosha, Wis. The 12,000-member local, AMC's biggest, voted 1,507-1,444 against ratifying the profit-sharing contract. A majority of the locals have approved it.

George Romney, AMC president said the contract is "better than any contract in the industry. I am confident that when the people in Kenosha are completely informed, they will approve."

Of the 85 bargaining units at Ford, 42 have settled and 1 still have unresolved problems. Twelve had no local demands.

Space Trips May Become Reality by '75

NEW YORK (AP)—If your children are eager to go rocketing into space, tell them to start saving their money.

Commercial manned space flights could be a reality by 1975-80, a space researcher predicted today.

Space transportation techniques are expected to develop rapidly in the next 20 years, greatly reducing the cost of a round-trip from earth into an orbit, or to the moon, said H. H. Koelle of the George E. Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala.

This could be the timetable, Koelle told the space flight report to the nation sponsored by the American Rocket Society:

Large, orbiting space stations carrying men in 1968-69.

A permanent, manned station on the moon, 1970.

A lunar settlement by 1975.

Manned expeditions to other planets starting in the 1972-74 period.

Round-trips from earth to low latitude orbits involving 5,000 men every year by 1975. Several men would be involved in each trip.

About 500 annual man round-trips from earth to moon by 1975.

Commercial manned space flights developing in the 1975-80 period.

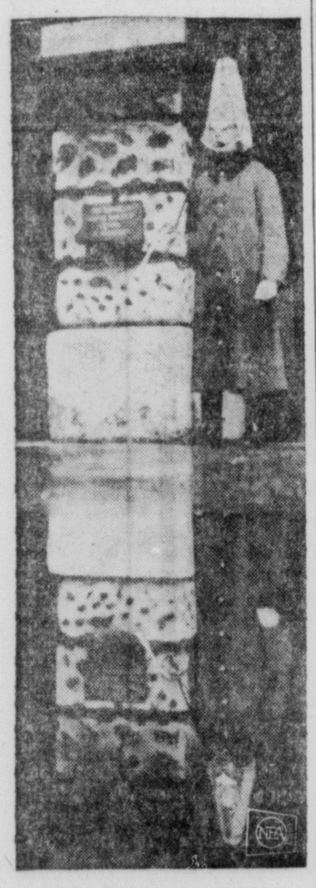

"It will be witnessed by the middle-aged generation of today, with the younger generation of today taking an active part in it," Koelle suggested.

His prepared paper did not estimate the cost of the round-trip ticket into orbital flight or to the moon.

Ohio Farm Yields For '61 Estimated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The indicated yields from Ohio farms as given in the Agriculture Department's estimate of 1961 production of major crops:

Corn—72 bushels per acre, total production 182,664,000 bushels.

Wheat — 30.5 bushels per acre, total 43,981,000 bushels.

Sobeans (for beans)—28 bushels per acre, total 47,488,000 bushels.

Sugar beets—15.5 tons per acre, total 341,000 tons.

Tobacco—1,594 pounds per acre, total 22,320,000 pounds.

Apples (commercial — production only)—3,300,000 bushels.

Stocks of grain on Ohio farms Oct. 1 were estimated at 19,554,000 bushels of old crop corn; 8,356,000 bushels of wheat, and 27,258,000 bushels of oats.

In another report, the Agriculture Department estimates burley tobacco production in Ohio this year will be 14,400,000 pounds, compared with 14,514,000 pounds last year.

The tobacco report said a rise in cigar filler output from Sept. 1 indications was attributable to improved prospects in Ohio's Miami Valley area. The Miami Valley's types 42-44 cigar filler production is estimated at 7,920,000 pounds, compared to 6,558,000 last year.

Writer Upton Sinclair To Marry Second Time

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—"I think I'm a very lucky old man," says Pulitzer Prize-winning novelist Upton Sinclair, 83.

Sinclair, author of more than 70 books, and Mary Elizabeth Willis, 79, a widow, took out a marriage license Tuesday. His first wife, Mary Craig Kimbrough Sinclair, died last April 26 at 78.

Sinclair said he and Mrs. Willis drove to San Bernardino for the license in an effort to avoid publicity.

"That shows you what duffers we are," he laughed. "We were very naive. We thought the ladies (in the clerk's office) up there wouldn't be learned. They didn't show any sign of recognizing me."

Deputy County Clerk Berniece Waddell said Sinclair, wearing a short-sleeved sport shirt and appearing tanned and healthy, "looked more nearly 70."

The author, who won the Pulitzer Prize in 1943 for his novel "Dragon's Teeth," said he and Mrs. Willis will be married at 11 a.m. Saturday in St. Ambrose Episcopal church in Claremont, home of the prospective bride. Sinclair gave an address in Monrovia. Both are small cities east of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Willis' permanent home is in Milwaukee, Wis. She is a sister of Dr. Frederick Hard, president of Scripps College in Claremont.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mollie Parnis, who designed clothes for two former first ladies, thinks Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy "ought to be able to wear what she wants"—including slacks, scarves and French fashions.

Now jokingly known among her New York fashion colleagues as "the out-of-season White House designer," Miss Parnis takes a sympathetic view of first ladies' fashion problems. They have plenty of them, she reports.

Miss Parnis rates Mrs Kennedy 32, as having a natural flair for clothes—she looks good in just about anything from bathing suit to formal, says the designer.

If Mrs. Kennedy wants to wear a scarf on her head in the country, that's okay with Miss Parnis.

She says some women, taking a look at that properly tied scarf, might learn something.

As for French styles: Miss Parnis says it's "old fashioned" to think a first lady has to wear only American-designed clothes. "If an occasional French dress gives Mrs. Kennedy a lift—and to what women would it not give a lift—why not?" says Miss Parnis.

Miss Parnis didn't just come out with these view. A group of Washington reporters beseiged her with questions on the subject at a recent New York meeting. She designed clothes for Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mrs. Harry S. Truman while they were White House occupants.

Citing problems of a first lady, Miss Parnis said it's "an agonizing experience" for a fashion conscious young woman like Mrs. Kennedy, who loved to go into stores and shop, not to be able to do so.

Because she can't do that anymore, Miss Parnis explains, Mrs. Kennedy has to have someone she can trust—like Oleg Cassini, whom she chose as her personal designer, to shop for her.

Goshen Center Community Club Plans For Year

The third grade won the room trophy for having the largest number of parents at the first meeting of the Goshen Center Community Club at Goshen Center School recently.

Kenneth Hutcheson, president, introduced the following teachers: First grade, Mrs. William Miskimins; second grade, Mrs. John Buehler; third grade, Mrs. Opal Kloetzly; fourth grade, Mrs. Ivan Townsend; fifth grades, Mrs. Robert Ruggles and John Knox; and sixth grade, Miss Edna Rose, princopal.

Mr. and Mrs. Gail Bartchy and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Weingart were appointed chairmen of the ways and means committee. They outlined plans for the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Riley are chairmen of the Halloween party to be held Oct. 27 at West Branch High School.

Clinton Heacock, the West Branch executive head, was introduced and spoke briefly about the new building at Goshen Center, and showed plans for the new Senior High School.

The lunch committee was Mrs. Harley Jones, Mrs. Sam Trimm, Mrs. Alex Costa, Mrs. Paul Baringer, and Mrs. Robert Baringer.

The next meeting Nov. 6 will be school visitation and open house for the new building. Lunch committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Weingart.

INDICTED FOR MURDER

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — John Moore, 26, of Middletown has been indicted of first-degree murder by the Butler County grand jury for the fatal shooting of Minnie Belle Ford, 37, of Hamilton July 15.

The grand jury also indicted Moore Tuesday on a charge of shooting to kill Charles Harris, 24, of Xenia, at the same time. Police said Moore admitted he shot Harris and Miss Ford after a quarrel.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Doctor Filters Spiels of the Pitchmen

We were looking at TV the other night when the pitchman announced that his medical product was used and endorsed by 9 out of 10 physicians. My friend turned to me and remarked, "I guess you must have been the tenth doctor."

That set me to thinking about these ads and their endorsements.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

Who were the nine endorsers? What are their names? If they thought the product good enough to endorse, why did they not sanction mention of their names?

What were they doctors of? Medicine? Philosophy? Music? Fine Arts? Economics?

And if they gave their endorsements to the manufacturer and sanctioned use of their names, why were they not identified in the commercial?

Furthermore, if the manufacturer obtained 9 endorsements out of a particular group of 10, were other groups questioned? And were there 9 out of 10 endorsements in all groups?

Indeed the inquiry might be extended. "Used at leading hospitals!" say other commercials. What leading hospitals? How many? Why not all leading hospitals? What reasons were given by leading hospitals that did not use the product?

The product is "like a doctor's prescription" boasts another blurb. What doctor? What prescription?

It's all like a poem we used to recite when we were kids. It began, "I was with Grant," the stranger said. Said the woman "Say no more." And she invited the passer-by to eat at her table.

Not until he'd had his fill did the stranger complete his opening sentence. "I was with Grant in Illinois," he said as he wiped his mouth "Some 10 years before the war."

At any rate, that's how it seems to the TENTH DOCTOR.

Rebirth of Mullins Good For City

The misgivings Salem residents had when the Mullins Manufacturing Co. was sold to the American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Co. in 1956 have given way to real optimism, following American-Standard's announcement of the sale of the Salem and Warren plants which constitute the "Youngstown Kitchens" Division.

The transaction will be more than a psychological "shot in the arm" for the community because Robert Potter, the former Salem manufacturer who will become president of the new Mullins after the first of the year, envisions an energetic manufacturing program.

The kitchens division title will disappear as the name of Mullins is put back on the factory building and company letterheads. To veteran Salem residents that's just what the doctor ordered. The community practically grew up with the original Mullins Company.

Future operations will be enhanced by the installation of new equipment to further diversify the firm's products, with Mr. Potter's own engineering skill and salesmanship expected to play a vital role in the company's progress. As a top official of the E. W. Bliss Co. for a number of years, he has traveled widely. His contacts will prove invaluable.

The rebirth of Mullins finds all Salemites wishing the new corporation officials, some of whom are yet to be announced publicly, the highest degree of success. And, it is not without some justification that there is anticipation that the new owners will eventually dispose of the Warren plant, a part of the "package deal," and consolidate all manufacturing in Salem.

Once Seen, Never Forgotten

The greatest show in nature—the coloring of the leaves before they fall each Autumn—is staged with a master's touch.

The curtain is opened on a bleak and dreary stage, unlighted and seemingly empty. It is one of those damp October days with a weather rang from bleak to desolate.

Then a miracle of lighting occurs before millions of wondering eyes. The weather brightens. The colorless stage is transformed into a kaleidoscope of color as sunlight picks out the crimson on the maple leaves, the russet of the oak, the blood-red leaves of sumac, the golden tan of linden and the black green of pines huddled securely in their winter coats.

The color spectacle runs on endlessly. As the eye moves across its span and back again, everything changes in the space of seconds. The greatest show in nature more than fills the eye.

It fills the mind and the whole being of the beholder, so much so that once seen it never is forgotten. The staging is a miracle in itself—not just the beginning but the end.

The miracle fades away. The lights go down. Darkness settles on the scene. Offstage there is the patter of Autumn rain. Then—emptiness. The color spectacle is over for another year. The greatest show in nature has moved on.

Auto Bargaining Is Local

Is collective bargaining turning sour in the auto industry?

Are the headaches the United Auto Workers bargainers are having with local issues, after they've threshed out national issues to their satisfaction, cutting the ground from under their position?

When collective bargaining was new in this modern era of mass unionism, local bargainers backed by outside "experts" huddled with management until a local agreement was reached. It wasn't until later in the game that the expanding national unions saw the advantage of making master agreements with key concerns and using these agreements as industrywide patterns.

MANAGEMENT pointed out that business operations were affected by local conditions; that it was insane for national unions to make all business concerns in the same fields of enterprise wear the same shoes. The retort they always heard was that competition was national, therefore the terms of competition should be the same.

With relatively slight modifications, that was the way it was — and the national unions held the high cards, until here and there managers of like industrial units found a way to look after their common interests without violating antitrust laws.

At that point, some of the advanage melted away from the national unions. They were dealing with a common front. They could not knock off industrial units one by one, playing them against each other.

NOW, AS IF IT had gone full cycle, industrial contracts are sticking on local issues. Bargaining is back where it started. Agreements reached by national bargainers are without effect until agreements are reached by local bargainers. The national officers of the automobile union are as helpless about putting their ideas into national effect as if they never had mastered the bargaining art of playing both ends against the middle.

It is only a matter of time until an automobile company, or perhaps all automobile companies, refuse to bargain until they can be given performance guarantees. Never has the auto union been closer to admitting tacitly what always has been demonstrably true about it — that it has no power to enforce bargaining decisions made in behalf of its members.

Arabia Yes, Egypt No

The thing to watch in Syria's declaration of independence from Egypt is the common denominator of Arabism.

The Syrians have turned against domination by Egypt, whose president Gamal Abdel Nasser, seems to have got his signals mixed between Arabism and Egyptianism.

But Syria has done nothing to cut its ties with the Nasser credo that the Arab world should draw closer together. It is not outside the realm of possibility that the Syrians and Egyptians still might work out an arrangement for a United Arab Republic in which both would have full sovereignty.

Nasser's error, apparently, was to put Arab unity ahead of Syrian nationalism. When Syrians finally became aware that the union of their country with Egypt was the unity of a dog with its tail, their restlessness began.

But all they have done is to assert sovereignty.

There is no firm evidence that they have turned against Arab unity.

There is, instead, a substantial possibility that Nasser's hand has been strengthened by his decision to forego military action against Syria.

He thereby made it plain, though he may have had no choice, that Syria is not being held against its will. He has left a door open for its return on a basis more agreeable to its nationalists.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

It must have been the welsh rarebit. At any rate we dreamt we were at World Series opener, with Andrei Gromyko umpiring at plate:

The batter in last of first inning had barely reached the plate when Gromyko cried "You're out."

To the loud protest, he asked "What team are you on?" "The Yankees," was reply. "That makes you a member of imperialistic bloc and in my book automatically out," said Andrei.

He was overruled by three other umps, but, as the batter took his place at the plate, the Russian said, "I now make it two out." When told there couldn't be two out when only one man had come up, he declared. "This is a typically slanderous argument of the power interests. Strike THREE!"

After a long debate the next batter stepped up and put one into bleachers for a homer. "FOUL" snapped Gromyko. It was pointed out that the ball went nowhere near a foul line.

"You are following capitalistic idea of foul lines and increasing tensions," declared the Russian leader. Again the umps ruled against him, but the player had scored and the board recorded one run.

"VETOED" snapped Mr. Gromyko, "and I declare the whole side out." Manager Houk emphasized that only two had come to plate. "Raising the issue of how many have come to bat is a characteristic tactic of America's ruling circles. I now declare the Dodgers winner of this world series," said Andrei.

"The Dodgers ain't even playing, and not one game has been finished," he was told.

"As a friend of all unhappy people my government stands by the Dodgers and also the Phillies and the Kansas City club," he cried.

There was a demand for a vote. Two of the other umpires abstained. It was clear things were in a jam. The matter was referred to a committee on procedural rules.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

Jimmy Hoffa, that specialist in bare knuckle fighting, has long been shouting for everybody to take off the gloves and come in swinging for a showdown. Okay, he's got it.

Everyb o dy has decided to e x t e n d him the discourtesy. Right now. It is he or they — they being some mighty influential labor chiefs who have just gathered in New York.

First they plan to give him a taste of bitter civil war. The full flow of revolt inside the Teamsters doesn't have the pageantry of Burgundy to it yet — but it is far more widespread than has been reported — until now.

During the three weeks I hit the road I totalled at least 17 Teamster locals, with a membership of some 200,000 which have either rebelled or in which there are powerful opposition leaders. These men with guts have formed hard-hitting units of their own.

Inside the big Philadelphia local the men who refuse to bow down call themselves the "Voice of Local 107." And they have been rolling up support by the hundreds — men who are willing to stand up and be counted at meetings.

Chicago's Democratic Union Organization Committee, Local 777, has been reaching for allies into Detroit and surrounding cities. There have been scores of secret anti-Hoffa gatherings.

ALSO IN CHICAGO there is a unit called Rebel Teamsters Union.

In Detroit there is something called the "Transportation Information Services" — which is battling Hoffa inside his own local.

Since this is war and a good war correspondent lists, from time to time, the divisions he covers, here, for the record, are the Teamsters unions in which there is revolt in addition to the now famed four in Cincinnati: Detroit Local 299, car haulers section; Philadelphia Local 107; Joint Council 7 in San Francisco, especially in Locals 70 and 85; Local 208 Los Angeles; Local 249 Pittsburgh; Local 407 Cleveland; Local 705 and Local 710 in Chicago; Local 281 Portland, Ore.; Local 405 in St. Louis; Local 310 in Tucson; and a Sikeston, Mo., Local. There are others. They'll be heard from.

It can be taken for granted that the AFL-CIO leaders now are helping anti-Hoffa Teamster leaders with money, manpower and advice whether or not they plan to take their locals out of Hoffa's "Brotherhood."

This means that the opposition right inside the big union now will begin to topple Hoffa's personal machines all over theland.

THE AFL-CIO leaders are pros in this sort of fight. They've promoted the internal revolt to the point where Hoffa now literally is flying in a dozen directions for secret meetings with his top command — such as the one in Chicago recently.

Now the pros are opening a second front—having given Hoffa fa just about enough time to get himself into some embarrassing left-wing alliances with Harry Bridges' Longshoremen and the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, and soon with the United Electrical Workers.

It doesn't take muscle to be tough, Hoffa will learn from such usually gentle people as Joe Beirne of the Communications Workers of America.

Beirne came into town for the AFL-CIO General Board and Executive Council session. Then he unburdened himself on the new Mike Quill - Jim Hoffa comaraderie.

"Quill is talking off the top of his head," Beirne told this reporter.

"And that is the apex of irresponsibility."

BEIRNE WANTS the AFL-CIO high command to launch a Truck Drivers Organizing Committee (TDOC).

"Remember," Beirne said, "Phil Murray became a big man on the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, which later became the United Steelworkers. Here is an opportunity to select a man to head such an organizing group against Hoffa, and to make that TDOC leader big.

"I'm for raising a million dollars in 18 months for this fight—and will try to raise half a million right here in New York. We can get the other unions to lend part of their organizing staff for two years to this fight."

In effect, this will be the tactic of AFL-CIO leader George Meany. But in a slower tempo.

First he will swing labor's high command behind a plan to issue individual charters (called federal charters) to any Teamster local seeking one. After these pile up, he'll go for a national organizing committee such as Joe Beirne suggests. Then when the rebels count up, there will be a rival Teamsters union racing Hoffa across the nation's highways.

No limited war, this one. They'll be using the blockbusters. That's what Hoffa wanted. That's what they'll give him. Hoffa's not up against a jury now. He's battling his peers.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Recently a friend had a small party at her home. The women put their gloves, purses and stoles in the bedroom. When I got home I noticed a lovely handkerchief was missing from my purse. Then I discovered that a $10 bill also was missing.

The next morning one of the other guests phoned to say she had lost her coin purse that night and asked me to look in our car because we had driven her over.

Later in the day I received a phone call from another guest who asked if I had missed anything after the party. I was stunned and asked how she knew. She said she has been suspicious of Mrs. X for a long time so she followed her when she left the living room. She saw her ransack the purses.

The question is, shall we tell Mrs. X's husband? He works with our husbands and perhaps he ought to know.—QUANDARY.

Dear Quandary: Don't tell her husband — tell HER. The woman may be a kleptomaniac (not the same as a thief) but it is not up to you to make the diagnosis. Let her know that you know — and then forget it.

Passing Fancy

Dear Ann: My girl friend wears that silvery kind of nail polish and matching lipstick and I hate it. To me it looks like the paint they put on kootch dancers so they'll glow in the dark.

I've told her how I feel about this but she claims a girl should not allow her boy friend to infringe on her private rights or she will be ppushed around forever.

I'm not trying to push her around, I just want her to look like a lady. We've been going steady for over a year and I plan to give her a ring for her birthday. If you tell me I'm out of order I'll never mention it again.

Please print this in the paper because we have a bet on your answer. — DUKE.

Dear Duke: Fads in cosmetics come and go. It's foolish to attach so much importance to a passing fancy.

The smart woman lets her man win the little ones — and this one is plenty little. Since you obviously have such a strong aversion to frosted polish and lipstick, she would be wise to select something else.

Loves Brother-In-Law

Dear Ann: I'm 30, attractive, and married to a nice, boring guy. We have four beautiful children. The problem is Mac — my husband's brother. I'm in love with him.

Mac is three years younger than I am and never has been married. If I had met Mac before I married Tex it would have been him and me. Mac lives with his mother. She and I hit it off swell together. I've never told her (or anyone else) about how Mac and I feel, but I'm sure she'd be for us.

I have no real grounds for divorce and I can't even think of any that would hold up in court. If they would add boredom as grounds it would release a lot of people from dull lives.

Please tell me, Ann, how can I get out of marriage gracefully?—HIGH WALLS.

Dear High: Sorry, but I know of no way that a mother of four can gracefully dump her husband and marry Uncle Mac.

Had you married Mac instead of Tex, you'd probably be writing to ask me how to unload him so you could marry his older brother. The grass on the other side of the fence always looks greener—perhaps because somebody else has to take care of it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rayburn To Live Long In History of U.S.

Once again a president of the United States goes to the sick bed of a valued member of his administration to say farewell. Mr. Eisenhower's parting with his secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, three years ago was a sad moment. Today tragedy recurs, and President Kennedy has made a flying trip to the hospital at Dallas where Speaker Rayburn is slowly moving to the end of his life.

David Lawrence

Just two weeks ago, Sam Rayburn gave what may be his last interview. He gave it to W. B. Ragsdale of the staff of U.S. News & World Report, whom he has known for many decades. Mr. Ragsdale waited for nearly a week at near-by Dallas before Mr. Rayburn felt strong enough to talk at his home in Bonham.

After the interview was transcribed the next day, he went over it carefully. The concluding paragraphs may well prove to be Sam Rayburn's parting words to posterity:

"I have absolute faith in the American people. I believe that more than 95 per cent of the American people have more good in them than bad. And, when properly appealed to, they will respond — now as they have in the past.

"The American people have never failed to respond to the best interests of the country when this country was in danger and in a crisis. I just know they will do it again if they are called upon.

"The great body of the American people is sound, patriotic and willing to sacrifice to the limit to preserve, protect and to perpetuate the great future of this great country.

"I have never doubted the patriotism or the willingness of the American people to sacrifice and do the right thing. I think we will come through in a fashion that will make us all proud.

"So I look forward to living in this country at peace, I hope, and in friendliness for all good peoples of the world. We want other people to have their real life, and we want ours.

"We do not want to interfere with the affairs of other governments. And we want to stay at home and attend to our own business, and to build our own structure without interference from anybody else."

SPEAKER RAYBURN has been present at many a conference of party leaders that President Kennedy has held at the White House and, indeed, at many held by President Eisenhower.

Presidents, irrespective of party, gave him their confidences because they knew we would respect them. He was always objective in his comments.

Though inclined toward the conservative side, he frequently repressed his own political feelings as he steered legislation through Congress that President Franklin D. Roosevelt sought. He helped the New Deal immeasurably.

He was also a close friend and coworker of President Truman.

He favored Lyndon Johnson for the Democratic presidential nomination at the 1960 convention at Los Angeles, but quickly announced his support of Sen. Kennedy when the latter won the nomination.

Mr. Rayburn has served as speaker of the House longer than any man in history.

Had anything happened to sweep away a president and vice president, he was next in line for the presidency.

Up until illness took him away from Washington this summer, his age — 79 years — was not regarded as a handicap. It was rarely mentioned. He looked vigorous and acted accordingly.

THE TEXAS congressman has been a natural leader, a capable public servant, and he has won the respect of both parties.

He has always been a man of his word — something that is deeply respected by members of Congress, so many of whom know the wiles and equivocations of party politics and maneuvers.

Mr. Kennedy's trip to Dallas is symbolic of the interest of the nation in the man who has served the people so well in the House of Representatives these many years.

Lots of men aspire to the presidency and some achieve renown because they hold the highest office in the land. Speaker Rayburn will live long in the history of his country as a constructive leader of the House of Representatives. While he may not have been known by as many people as acclaim a president of the United States, Sam Rayburn will be remembered in the annals of the national capital as a great servant of the best interests of the United States.

Long Live the Sultan

By TRUMAN TWILL

Some of the complications while Roger Maris became the new Sultan of Swat in America were a long way from baseball.

They never became part of the story as written by baseball specialists. But the story was there all the time.

It centered on the fact that Maris simply isn't the sultan type. People who had known the mighty Babe Ruth in his lusty prime, full of energy, mischief and edible and potable goodies, couldn't imagine this young man as a potential successor.

He wasn't the Babe — their Babe.

He was to the legend of the immortal Ruth what a Boy Scout would be to the legend of Genghis Khan.

Maris is, according to all accounts, a young family man who likes to live quietly. Bright lights have no particular attraction for him.

He plays baseball for money and aims to hold tight to as much of his income as he can. He has no more flair for the dramatic than a payroll clerk.

Compared with the Ruthian saga, as embellished by time and the imaginations of idolators who wanted to believe the great man was three times bigger than life size, the meager substance of the young ballplayer who threatened to become the new Sultan of Swat seemed like an insult to the original script.

Consequently, all of us who were pulling for Roger Maris to make it found ourselves pulling against people who were pulling for the preservation of Babe Ruth's unique distinction.

When they insisted that the kid had to hit 60 homeruns in the same number of games to equal the record, though this would mean that all other baseball records would be subject to the same captious technicality, we infuriated them by pointing out what was obvious to us but never to them.

If Maris hit a season total of 61 homeruns, instead of 60, we insisted, he would become the new Sultan of Swat, regardless of the length of the baseball season. They would have tried to take the bounce out of that, too, if they had thought the fellow really had a chance to reach 61.

Well, he made it—and we're glad.

We liked Babe Ruth, too, though we're not soft enough in the head to swallow all the guff they're saying about him. He was everything they say he was on the ball field, and why not let it go at that, without saying he was things he never was off the ballfield?

But that doesn't keep us from liking Roger Maris — not personally but symbolically. He proves things keep getting better all the time. This is something you either believe or reject, but those of us who believe it are always eager to hail a new champion. Our faith is in the future, not the past.

One Sultan of Swat has been dethroned, long reign a new Sultan of Swat. We think it should be this way in all things. We do not worship the dead past but the lively future. We do not buy the nonsense that everything which happened when we were younger was therefore better than anything which can happen now that we are older.

We think the world hasn't seen anything yet, including Helen of Troy, the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World, Babe Ruth and now Roger Maris. What we're looking forward to is some ballplayer who will hit 62 homeruns in a baseball season to dethrone Roger Maris as the Sultan of Swat. It could happen next year. We hope it does.

Mrs. John P. Finch

Kirkham-Finch Nuptials Held In Christian Church

The First Christian Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Conniejean A. Kirkham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Kirkham of North Benton, to John P. Finch, son of Mrs. Cathryn Finch of 807 E. 6th St., Saturday evening at 7.

Rev. Harold Deitch officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms and ferns and two arrangements of white mums.

Lee Magnusum of Cuyahoga Falls was the soloist. His selections were "Whither Thou Goest," "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Ruth Berry was the organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore an antique white silk gown with long sleeves, pleated yoke and sweetheart neckline edged with jeweled schiffli, embroidered four leaf clovers formed the bodice of the dress and the princess panel front tiers of embroidered silk fashioned the skirt and full chapel train. Her fingertip illusion veil was attached to a queens crown of pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid corsage.

Irene Spurlock of Ravenna was maid of honor and Mrs. Lenzie Boyer of Deerfield was the matron of honor. They wore gold satin peau dresses with square necklines and fitted bodices with brief sleeves. Their head pieces were Dior bows with circular veils.

The bridesmaids were Kay Finch and Carol Finch, sisters of the bridegroom, and Karen Waltz, cousin of the bride.

Bobby Jo Finch, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

Robert Finch, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers were Donald Finch and Ronald Finch, brothers of the bridegroom, William Kirkham, brother of the bride, and Larry Lucas.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue wool sheath dress trimmed in satin with blue accessories and a white pompon corsage.

The bridegroom's mother chose a two-piece lace dress with green accessories and a white pompon corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony in Fellowship Hall in the church. The bride's table was laid in white and centered with a four-tier white cake decorated with yellow roses. Arrangements of mums in fall shades, crystal candelabra and silver appointments completed the table setting.

Miss Terry Miller of Ravenna, Mrs. Donald Watters of Ravenna and Miss Virginia Bellow served.

Miss Betty Dillon of Ravenna registered 150 guests from Salem, Greenford, Ravenna, Alliance, Youngstown, East Liverpool, North Benton, Deerfield, Homeworth, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Indiana, Lake Milton, Washingtonville and Leetonia.

The bride is a graduate of Ravenna Southeast High School and is employed as a secretary with Richard G. Capel Agency.

The bridegroom attended Salem High School and is employed with Kyser Chemicals Co. at Columbiana.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a two-piece royal blue wool suit with black accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside at 979 S. Union Ave. when they return from their honeymoon to Niagara Falls, N. Y.

The rehearsal was held Friday evening at the church and the bridegroom's mother entertained the wedding party at her home following the rehearsal.

Sanders Feted On 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Toot of Washingtonville held a family dinner Saturday honoring the 25th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John (Jack) Sanders of RD 5, Salem.

Mrs. Sanders was the former Noreen Mellott. The couple were married in Cumberland, W. Va., Oct. 6, 1936, with Rev. Ivan J. Howland officiating. A sister, Mrs. Helen Sanders Baker and Mrs. Ivan Howland were the attendants.

The couple have four children. Jack of Columbiana, Mrs. Toot of Washingtonville, and Judy and Sue, at home. There are two grandchildren, Timmy Sanders and Terri Lynn Toot.

North Georgetown Lutheran Missionary Society Convenes

The Emma Naffziger Missionary Society of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church in North Georgetown met Monday evening for their monthly meeting with 19 members present.

Mrs. Dora Greeneisen and Mrs. Larry Iler were guests.

"The Race That Refused to Vanish" was the topic presented by Mrs. Ray Thornton. Devotions were led by Mrs. Lewis Reichenbach.

Mrs. Floyd Kniseley presided at the business meeting. The members voted to make the late Rev. H. H. Creager a member of the society in memoria.

Plans to attend the Eastern Conference Convention Oct. 24 at St. James Church in Cleveland were discussed.

Nov. 3 World Communion Day will be observed at the Homeworth Presbyterian Church.

The society will serve dinner to the Ruritan Club in October.

Green stamps were collected to be sent to Montezuma Schools at Cottonwood, Ariz.

Hostesses for the evening were Miss Mildred Wyss and Mrs. Raymond Wuthrick.

The next meeting will be Nov. 13 with Mrs. Charles Sommers, topic leader, and Mrs. Willis Greeneisen, devotional chairman.

Office Girls Annual Party Is Enjoyed

The 23rd annual dinner party of the office girls of Salem Manufacturing companies was held Monday evening at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, with 180 members attending.

Stu Wilson, Youngstown radio personality, was guest speaker. The fact that Mr. Wilson has never seen a flying saucer did not detract from the interesting talk he delivered on the subject of flying saucers.

Mrs. Martin Schmidt of the Church Budget Envelope Co. was the toastmistress, and Miss Barbara Gray of American Standard introduced the speaker.

Host for the evening was the Church Budget Envelope Co. Entertainment was in charge of Kitchens Division American Standard and the Salem Label Co. distributed the prizes.

Prizes were given to Marcia Chapman and Joan Early of Hunt Valve Division, Betty Miller of Electric Furnace Co., Midge Neely and Donna Bradt of Church Budget, Blanche Fulton and Edna Babb of Deming's, Frieda Binder and Patricia Wilde of Salem China Co., Patricia Lavelle and Marilyn Hinderliter of E. W. Bliss Co. and Margaret Stewart of Eljer Co. The door prizes were awarded to Grace Meade of Electric Furnace and Joan Early of Hunt Valve.

The theme of the decorating was the moon and stars carried out in blue with star dust glitter. The tables were decorated with ivy and white tapers with individual candle favors in ceramics.

Two new representatives at the dinner were the Ohio Pump Co. and Sebring Container, Inc. Other companies represented were E.W. Bliss Co., Electric Furnace Co., Church Budget Envelope Co., Deming Division of the Crane Co., Eljer Plumbingware Division, The Murray Corp. of America, Hunt Valve Co., Lincoln Machine Co., Quaker City Foundry, Inc., Salem Label Co., Salem Tool Co., Salem China Co., Save-Way Sales and Mfg., Sekeley Industrial Tool and Mfg., Silver Manufacturing Co., Youngstown Kitchens Division of American Standard.

Hosts for the dinner next year will be Eljer Plumbingware Division of the Murray Corp. of America.

Houston, New York Pick Players For '62 Season

Deals Cost Each Team Two Million Dollars

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — At a cost of nearly two million dollars each, Houston and New York have assembled teams today that probably will battle it out for ninth place in 1962 in the now expanded 10-team National League.

The only hope for the Colts and Mets to finish among the first eight is to improve the club through trades, purchases or the sudden emergence of thus far unheralded bonus youngsters.

Despite the seemingly meager pickings in Tuesday's regular and special drafts of players from the eight established National League clubs, both President George Weiss of the Mets and General Manager Paul Richards of the Colts appeared satisfied, at least outwardly.

"We have a strong nucleus for a fine club in a short time," said Richards. "From now on, we ask no favors from anyone."

"We went for fellows who had been top players," explained Weiss, "and we got most of them We went for young pitching and hitters tailored for the Polo Grounds. I think Houston has the edge over us in infielders while we have the edge in pitching."

"I honestly feel both new clubs obtained some excellent young prospects," said National League President Warren Giles, who presided over the draft meeting, attended by officials of all National League clubs. "I am hopeful that these players will give them a nucleus in which to build a pretty good club next year."

If the Colts and Mets were to open the 1962 National League season tomorrow, here is how the starting teams probably would shape up:

Unitas May Not Play Sunday

Colts' Quarterback Having Rough Year

BALTIMORE (AP) — Johnny Unitas has been a mystery to National Football League opponents of the Baltimore Colts for six years. But the all-pro quarterback has not been particularly hard to solve in four games so far this season.

Enemy defenders have picked off nine of his passes and his completion percentage has dropped to 49.4. Unitas also is far behind his pace of last year when he threw for 3,099 yards, an NFL record.

What's wrong?

Coach Weeb Ewbank, who indicated Tuesday he might bench Unitas and start Lamar McHan Sunday against the Bears in Chicago, frankly admits he doesn't know for sure. Unitas has become a new kind of mystery quarterback.

Ewbank said Unitas' sub-par performance so far stems partly from a sore finger. "I looked at his finger and it's swollen. It's sore, there's no question about it," said the Colt coach.

Speculation that Unitas has been rushed more this season than in past years was discounted by Ewbank. "We figure that in last Sunday's game, there were only four plays on which there was poor pass protection and that's average for any game," he said.

Against the Green Bay Packers, who stunned the Colts 45-7, Unitas clicked on only 11 of 24 passes. Five were intercepted.

A reticent player who won't offer alibis for his "off-days," Unitas has not been much help in explaining his dilemma. He hasn't even confided in Ewbank.

Steelers' QB May Be Out For Season

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An injury has sidelined Bobby Layne of the Pittsburgh Steelers, but the veteran quarterback vows he'll be back in the lineup before the end of the season.

Coach Buddy Parker feels Layne is through for the year.

Layne played only a brief time against Los Angeles and last week he did not dress for the Philadelphia game.

He is suffering from hematoma on the left side of his body. Hematoma is a tumor or swelling containing blood.

Smallmouth Bass Survey Shows Rise In Beaver Creek

A survey of smallmouth bass in Beaver Creek, Columbiana County, revealed twice as many this fall as were found in 1960, reports Dan Armbruster, district fish management supervisor, Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Three widely scattered population samples were taken with the aid of the shocking machine and 124 smallmouths were found. Last year a total of 61 were counted in a similar survey at the same three stations.

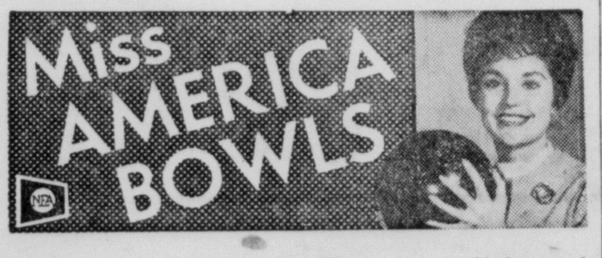

Forty per cent of the 124 bass were young of the year. The adults ranged up to 12 inches.

A six-inch bass tagged in 1957 was recaptured this year and it measured 11 inches.

"This is a slow rate of growth," Armbruster said, "But the fish came from the head-waters of the stream where food is less abundant."

Two American eels showed up in the survey, one 21 inch, the other 31. Eels are rare but have appeared with increasing frequency in recent years.

9-Explosion Point

By SHARON KAY RITCHIE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The last step in the four - step approach is vital.

The two preceding steps are, in a sense, automatic. Here's what happens on the fourth step if everything is working:

The left foot and right arm are synchronized. As the right arm descends in the pendulum, downward and forward, the left foot begins to slide. The ball should be neither behind nor ahead of the bowler.

At the end of the step comes the explosion point. This is the instant when the ball leaves the hand and the follow through begins. Much happens quickly. And it is all so important that many instructors begin their teaching of a student, who is not a beginner, by observing what he does here.

Billy Welu, a first team bowling All-American, gave me some fourth-step hints. The left foot should never leave the lane. The feet should be at right angles to the foul line. The shoulders should be parallel to the foul line, except when angling for a spare shot.

The bowler should be steady and well balanced.

NEXT: Release.

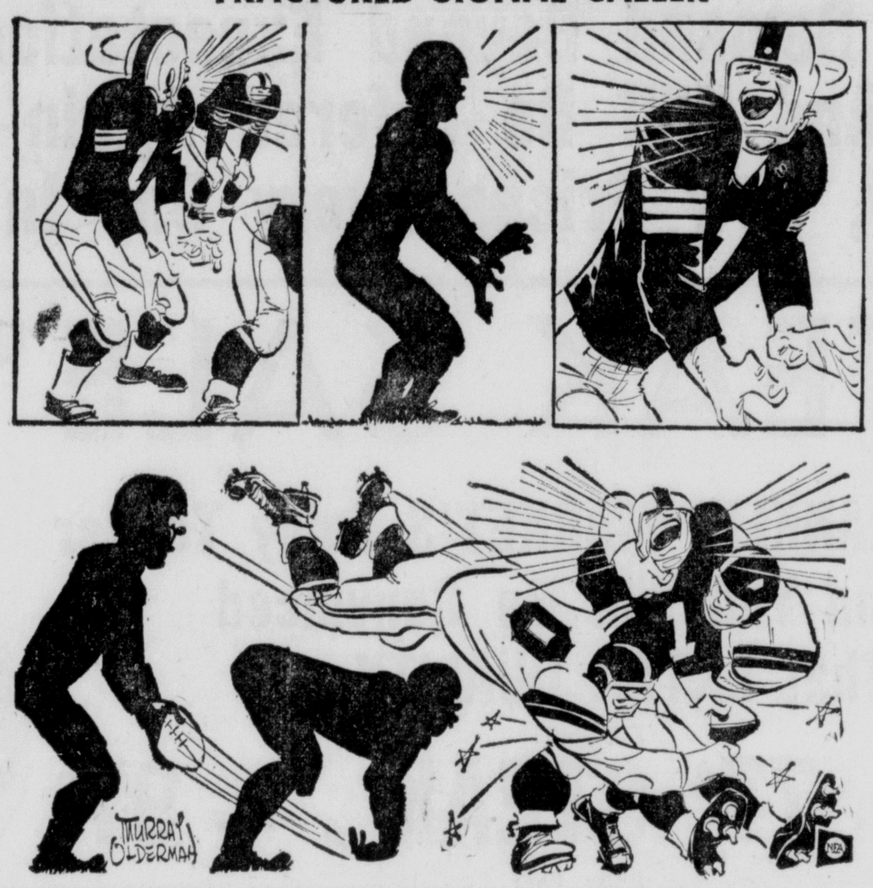

AT THE END of the step comes the explosion point.

U.S. Ryder Cup Golfers Say British Links Tough

By RONALD THOMSON

LYTHAM ST. ANNE'S, England (AP) — America's Ryder Cup golfers agreed today that, come wind or rain or both, this royal links is a true and tough test for the biennial match against Britain Friday and Saturday.

The Yanks reached this unanimous opinion after playing their first practice rounds over the Lytham St. Anne's course in a drizzling rain, but without the wind that can turn the layout into 6,635 yards of treachery.

"It's a real tight course," said Gene Littler, U.S. Open champion, after playing his first 18 holes over British soil.

"You have to hit the ball straight. If you don't—well, brother you're in trouble."

The Ryder Cup battle—14th in the series and won 10 times by the United States—is certain to draw huge crowds to this vacation coastline in England's northwest.

Upwards of 10,000 people are expected to swarm over the seaside links on each day of the match—eight foursomes on Friday and 16 singles on Saturday, all over 18 holes, morning and afternoon, under the new revised Ryder Cup system.

"The course is in terrific condition," said Mike Souchak, of Grossinger, N.Y. "It only penalizes you when you get where you're not supposed to be."

Jay Herbert, the U.S. team's 38-year-old bachelor, said:

"This course is going to need a lot of local knowledge. It's got plenty of hidden traps, but I guess we'll have the feel of it before the match starts."

American captain Jerry Barber ended his first practice round with raindrops dripping from his glasses.

"Sometimes I think the English have an automatic sprinkling system which they turn on whenever foreigners come here to play," Barber said.

College Football Picks

NEW YORK (AP)—Be sure to equip your TV set with a shatter proof screen for this weekend's viewing of the Michigan State at Michigan football game. Each again is a Big Ten power and they hate each other athletically as only rival state institutions can.

You and some 100,000 spectators-in-the-flesh will see Michigan wear down the Spartans and eke out a narrow victory. There's a .725 chance that this prediction is correct. That's the average for the season after four weeks. Last week's figures showed 31 correct and 15 wrong picks.

Each team has powerful and mobile linemen. Each, also, has speedy and versatile backs. But Michigan also has Bill Tunnicliff, a 230-pound fullback and he gives the Wolverines a slight edge.

Iowa over Indiana: The Hawkeyes have been sputtering in their first two games, but despite a long injury list among the Iowa backs the Hoosiers haven't enough to hold their foes in check.

Alabama over North Carolina State: The Crimson Tide has yielded an average of only four points each to three foes stronger than State.

Texas over Oklahoma: The one-time Big Eight power will wear itself out trying to catch Jim Saxton and Jack Collins.

Mississippi over Houston: The Rebels' biggest worry will be to decide which of their three top teams to start.

Ohio State over Illinois: The Illini still too green even if the Buckeyes aren't as fierce as they were rated to be.

Notre Dame over Southern California: The Irish are on the way back as any team would be that had their backfield array.

Elsewhere: Baylor over Arkansas; Maryland over North Caroline; Louisiana State over South Carolina; Northwestern over Minnesota; Washington over California; Georgia Tech over Duke; Miami over Colorado; Navy over Cornell.

Boston College over Detroit, Air Force over Cincinnati, Kansas over Iowa State, Syracuse over Nebraska, Missouri over Oklahoma State, Purdue over Miami Miami (Ohio), Wisconsin over Oregon State.

San Francisco Leads NFL In Yards Gained

NEW YORK (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers have moved out front as the National Football League's leading team on offense.

The 49ers and their explosive "shotgun" attack have mustered a total of 1,470 yards through the defenses of Washington, Green Bay, Detroit and Los Angeles, the NFL's weekly statistical charts showed today. San Francisco has won three games and lost one.

The Chicago Bears, despite their 2-2 record, have made the second best showing on offense. The Bears have picked up 1,307 yards. Dallas is third with 1,289.

The 49ers lead the league in total rushing yardage with 686, the best pass completion average with 58.8, the most touchdowns with 18, the most touchdowns on running plays with 13 and the most points with 129.

Collins Picked As 'Lineman Of Week'

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Gary Collins is a bigger fellow than even Tom Nugent, his Maryland football coach, realized.

"We had him listed as 6 foot, 3 inches until we measured him the other day and found out he's an inch and a half taller," said Nugent.

At times, Collins must seem 10 feet tall to Maryland opponents.

The senior end from Williamstown, Pa., has an uncanny knack for leaping above defenders and snagging touchdown passes.

After he grabbed one for a touchdown and another for the winning two-point conversion in last Saturday's 22-21 victory over Syracuse, Collins was picked "lineman of the week" today by The Associated Press as much for his defensive play.

"He's also our punter and when the going gets tough on defense, I have to get him in there," said Nugent. "So it's hard to give him a rest and when I can, I do it on offense."

For that reason, Collins' pass catching statistics aren't too impressive. He's caught only seven in Maryland's three victories.

This was the second time Collins was named lineman of the week by the AP. Last season, it was for catching a game-winning pass against North Carolina, Maryland's opponent this Saturday.

When Ty Cobb stole 96 bases for the Detroit Tigers in 1915, he was caught stealing 38 times.

Expected To Be Ready For Illini

Two Buckeyes Injured In Rough Grid Practice

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

They really knock heads together at Ohio State's football drills. It's getting costly.

The seventh-ranked Buckeyes lost two men with head injuries Tuesday as they went through their paces in a midweek head-knocking drill for Saturday's opening Big Ten conference clash with Illinois.

Left end Chuck Bryant had to be carried off the field on a stretcher after being knocked unconscious in a collision. Moments later left tackle Bob Vogel was formed to the sidelines when he was hit in the head. Both are expected to be ready for the Illini.

It was the same at other camps around the nation as college football's elite collided in preparation for upcoming tests, with Illinois, Michigan, Southern California, Syracuse, Missouri, Iowa and Navy among others reporting serious injuries to key personnel.

The Illini lost quarterback Mike Taliaferro for the rest of the season when the team physician ordered the signal-caller removed from the roster after checking a nerve injury in Taliaferro's neck. Fullback Mike Summers and linebacker Joe Mota did not take part in the scrimmage.

Michigan's sixth-ranked Wolverines will be shy two key linemen for their nationally televised test against fifth-ranked Michigan. First-string right guard Joe O'Donnell and replacement Lou Pavloff have not recovered from their injuries.

Southern Cal's Trojans will face eight-ranked Notre Dame Saturday without the services of halfback Willie Brown, who has a torn ligament in his right foot. Syracuse, which meets Nebraska, learned Soph tackle John Paglio has a broken left wrist and probably is out for the year.

Quarterback Ron Taylor was sidelined with a thigh injury as Missouri worked out for its Big Eight conference opener against Oklahoma State. He may be back for the clash but halfback Gerald Stevenson defintely is lost and fullback Andy Russell remains a question mark.

Iowa's second-ranked Hawkeyes, preparing for Indiana, drilled for two hours while quarterback Wilburn Hollis watched from the bench with his arm in a cast. Others on the injured list are centers Bill Van Buren and Dayton Perry, tackle Al Hinton and halfbacks Bernie Wyatt and Larry Ferguson.

End Ed Gill will miss Navy's game with Cornell due to a virus infection, and will be replaced by sophomore Jim Campbell, who has been a stalwart on the defensive unit.

Elsewhere, Oklahoma moved Duane Cook to left tackle in place of injured Tom Cox for the Texas meeting, Nebraska may be without linemen Mickey Tingelhoff, Ed Mitchell and Bob Brown for its game against Syracuse, quarterback Sandy Stephens missed Minnesota's workout and UCLA end Mel Profit is in the hospital with an injury suffered against Ohio State.

Saban Fired As Patriots' Head Mentor

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Patriots of the American Football League have fired head Coach Lou Saban, former Western Illinois University coach, and hired Mike Holovak, ex-Boston College mentor, to replace him.

The Patriots' management lowered the boom suddenly Tuesday night by majority vote of the board of directors.

"I didn't know about it until they phoned me," said Saban. "They had to make a change. It just hit me and that's it."

Saban, 39, joined the Patriots last year, touted by the Boston club's General Manager Ed McKeever, as "the finest young coach I've seen in 15 years." His contract had one year to run.

Holovak, an All-America fullback at Boston College and assistant Patriots coach, played professionally with the Chicago Bears of the National Football League. He was a PT boat skipper in World War II.

"I hope it works out," Holovak said. "Needless to say it was a shocker, to get called and be told this, out of a clear blue sky."

President Billy Sullivan, who said Saban was notified an hour before the public announcement, told reporters, "We simply felt that all the talent on our team had not been used."

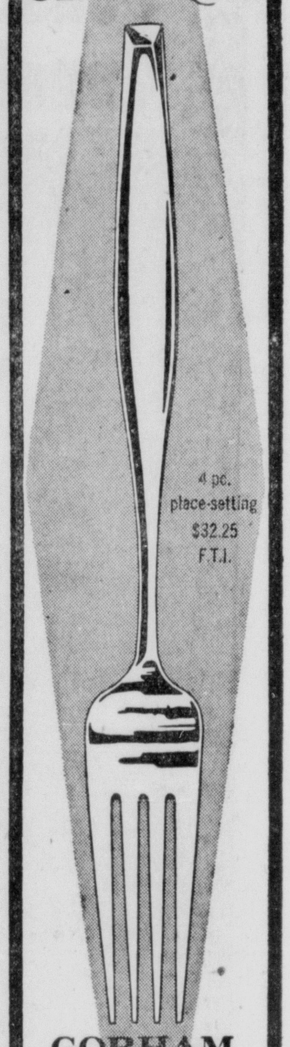

Former USGA junior amateur golf champions who are now pros include Gay Brewer, Mason Rudolph, Tommy Jacobs, Don Bisplinghoff, and Rex Baxter. Runners-up Ken Venturi and Al Geiberger also are professionals.

Here's A Switch

Kemp Now Indispensable On Unbeaten Pro Team

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — You can tell how valuable a property Jack Kemp has become to San Diego.

Sid Gillman has now cautioned his freckle-faced quarterback to run out of bounds any time a tackler approaches and the sideline is handy.

He's the one indispensable man on the only undefeated team in professional football.

That's quite a switch for a guy whose only mode of travel with the pros a couple of years ago was on a taxi squad. The taxi squad is a euphemism for guys not quite good enough to be carried on the roster.

Only Kemp, a blond burrhead right out of Hollywood (he went to Fairfax High with such baseball stars as Barry Latman, Larry Sherry and Chuck Essegian), didn't buy the idea he wasn't good enough, despite the fact he was ferried around the National League by Detroit, Pitts burgh, New York and San Francisco, couldn't even stick with Calgary in the Canadian League, and got to throw only 23 passes in three campaigns.

LAST YEAR, KEMP threw more than 400 times for more than 3,000 yards and 20 touchdowns. The Chargers won the Western Division of the American League, and the kid, a maturing 26, is on a first class ticket as the one quarterback in the new circuit who could make it as a regular in the NFL.

The difference? "Very simple," said Jack as he prepared to pump against the New York Titans in the battle of division leaders Oct. 15 at the Polo Grounds. "It was going from second or third or fourth string quarter to the starting job. When you're a sub, you get in the game and got to produce right away or they yank you. The pressure's always on you.

"That was Billy Wade's trouble in Los Angeles. One mistake and he was out. I was always so worried about staying in and impressing the coach, and being afraid of an interception, that I failed to concentrate on the job."

IT TAKES a rugged defender to nab one of Kemp's passes. He can throw long or short, but the trademark is a halo of smoke that follows the ball. He puts so much zing on his pitches that even his own receivers have trouble hanging on to the ball at times.

"That's the way I want it," nodded Gillman. "We might drop one now and then, but Jack has thrown only one interception."

Actually the records show that he has had three picked off this year, but he has flipped five touchdown passes and directed the rugged Charger attack with meticulous care to pay off Gillman's confidence.

When Gillman became the Charger coach a year ago, Kemp was under contract, signed by Frank Leahy. In critical Los Angeles, where the Chargers then located, they still wanted to know who was going to play quarerback. This was a kid out of tiny Occidental in the suburbs who had never proved himself in genuine competition.

But in workouts on the campus of Loyola, Sid Gillman liked what he saw.

Predictions for the week:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Chargers to stampede Titans by 9.

Houston Oilers to grease Boston skids by 3.

Denver Broncs to unhorse Oakland by 1.

Dallas Texans to corral Buffalo by 6.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Baltimore Colts to whinny by Chicago by 3.

Cleveland to squeeze Green Bay Packers in a toss-up.

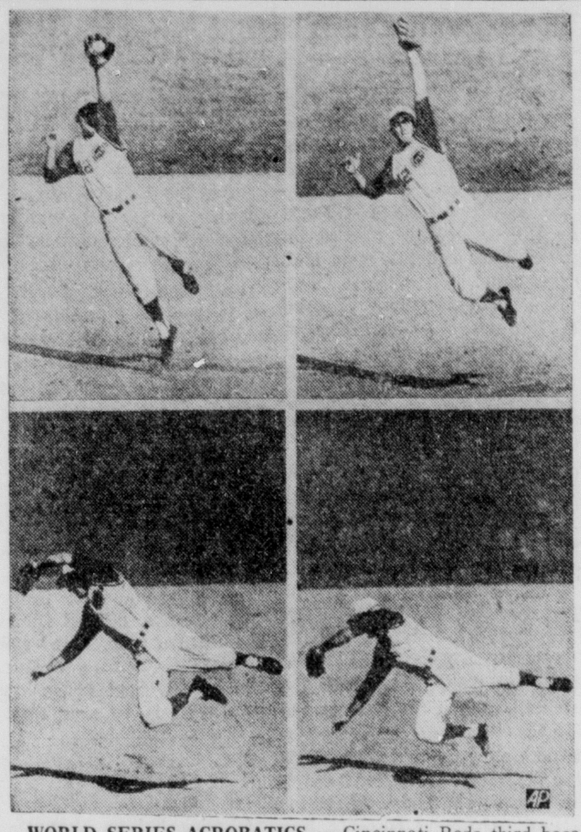

Detroit Lions to regain roar aiainst Los Angeles by 1.

New York to outdefense Dallas by 3.

Philadelphia Eagles to soar over crippled St. Louis by 8.

San Francisco to scatter Minnesota's shots by 10.

Pittsburgh to break ice in Washington by 7.

WORLD SERIES ACROBATICS — Cincinnati Reds third baseman Gene Freese has to go far to his right and leap into the air to make a putout on Elston Howard's line drive in fifth game of World Series Oct. 9 in Cincinnati, Ohio. He came down with the ball to retire the New York Yanks catcher. Yankees won the game, 13-5, and thereby won the World Series in 5 games. It was the 19th World Championship for the Yankees.

Griffiths One Stroke Behind

Biagetti's 139 Total Leads In Ohio Golf Tournament

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Leo Biagetti and Eddie Griffiths threatened to make a two-man race out of the Ohio Golf Championship heading into today's final 36-hole grind.

Over the first two rounds of the 72-hole affair, Biagetti and Griffiths were the only ones able to break par on the tough Firestone Country Club championship course—the same course that was used for last year's PGA and for the American Golf Classic last August.

Biagetti, Ashland Country Club professional, fired a 2-under-par 68 in a blazing finish Tuesday, knocking the ball in the 18th hole from a distance of 160 yards. Combined with his 71 in Monday's opening round, that gave Biagetti a 139 total for 36 holes, one-under-par and one stroke ahead of griffiths.

Griffiths, 34 - year - old Youngstown pro who won the Ohio Open in 1957, shot a 3-under-par 67 in the first round, but went 3-over-par for 73 on the second round.

Aside from Biagetti, none beat or matched par Tuesday. There were no 71s and only three 72s as the field was trimmed to 64 for today's finale.

Of the field of 100 pros and 50 amateurs who started Monday, 39 pros and 25 amateurs made it into the finals.

Quotas for the finals had been set arbitrarily at 35 professionals and 25 amateurs, but since five pros were tied at 155, the cutoff point, all five went into the final 36 holes.

A score of 164 was good enough to qualify an amateur for the finals.

Marion Heck shot an 80-90-170 while Art Rohrer fired an 83-78-161. Warren Laughlin withdrew.

Top Runners Will Meet At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Football fans at the Cleveland Browns-Green Bay Packer game here Sunday will see the leading and runner-up ground gainers in the National Football League as well as the loop's top passer and scorer.

Jim Taylor of the Packers and Jim Brown of Cleveland are 1-2 in rushing with 360 and 315 yards, respectively, and the Browns' Milt Plum leads the league in passing, based on a number of statistics. He has a 55.2 completion percentage.

But the Packers' Paul Hornung has the biggest edge on the nearest rival in the department he leads—scoring. The golden boy from Notre Dame, whose 176 points last year are an NFL record, has scored 64 points—a 16-point bulge over Baltimore's Lenny Moore.

Hornung's performance against Baltimore last week was perhaps his greatest. He scored four touchdowns, kicked six extra points and a 38-yard field goal for a total of 33 points.

Yankees' Turley, Arroyo Scheduled For Operations

NEW YORK (AP) — For most of the New York Yankees, the main business at hand today was to sit back and wait for their fat World Series checks.

Not so for Bob Turley and Luis Arroyo. Both pitchers have operations scheduled. Turley's is important. It could send him back on the firing line as one of the top Yank hurlers. Arroyo's is a cyst on his wrist.

"I'm going into the hospital to have some bone chips removed from my right elbow this week," said Turley, the hero of the 1958 World Series.

"If it is successful, and I sure hope it is, I'll have the entire winter to recuperate. Then maybe I can start throwing hard in the spring. This has been a tough year for me. I wouldn't want to have another line like it."

Turley won only three games all season. He was sidelines with a sore arm in early May, and when it didn't come around, he was placed on the disabled list.

Reliefer Arroyo was scheduled to go in the hospital with Turley for the cyst removal. But instead he's heading home for Ponce, Puerto Rico, where his youngest daughter is ailing.

"My operation can wait," said Arroyo. "Right now the only thing on my mind is to see my daughter. I'll be back as soon as she is all right."

Deer Fine Imposed; But No Deer Found

AKRON — A Kentucky resident was recently fined in Trumbull County for illegal possession of a deer and the wildlife officers never even saw the deer. Here's the way it happened:

The violator's car hit a deer while he was driving on State Route 90 near Vienna. With no insurance to cover the damage, he decided to hide the pickup truck and report it stolen. First, he and his partner hauled the deer to the home of a friend and gave it to him. Then he ditched the truck which was later found by police.

During the police investigation of the report, the man mentioned that he had hit a deer. When Division of Wildlife officers investigated the case, they collected hair, blood and flesh samples from the truck. This potential evidence led the violator to confess and he was fined $100 and costs in the Trumbull County Court. An accomplice was fined $25 and costs.

Hutchinson Says Loss Of Players Hurt Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — How did the loss of six players to the National League expansion draft affect the Cincinnati Reds?

"We got hurt," Manager Fred Hutchinson said Tuesday when it was all over and the league champions were richer by $475,000 but poorer by pitchers Jay Hook, Ken Johnson and Sherman Jones; second baseman Elio Chacon; outfielder Gus Bell and first baseman Dick Gernert.

"We were bound to suffer," Hutchinson added gloomily. He did not elaborate on what the Reds plan to do to help them keep their title next year.

The Reds have a number of young players considered to be almost ready for the jump from minor leagues to the majors. And General Manager Bill DeWitt, the astute trader who did a lot to put together Cincinnati's winning combination this year, has this to say about the coming winter:

"We won't sit still. We'll even deal with the Yankees if they care to do business with us. We have no five-year plan like some other clubs. We don't care about 1966. The Reds primarily are concerned with winning again in 1962."

Colorado's Weidner Is 'Back Of Week'

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Colorado's Buffaloes looked in helpless straits against Kansas last Saturday, down 20-0 with 10 minutes to play. But on came Gale Weidner, their eagle-eye quarterback, to throw three touchdown passes, gunning down the Jayhawks 21-20 with a fantastic exhibition of clutch passing and play calling.

Today, it earned the senior Colorado quarterback top honors as The Associated Press' back of the week of college football.

Weidner started the comeback by throwing a 57-yard scoring strike to end Ken Blair. The next time the Buffaloes had the ball, he hit Blair with a 47-yard touchdown pass.

He got the winner, a 16-yard pass to Jerry Hildebrand with less than three minutes to go, culminating an eight-play, 63-yard drive.

In all, Weidner completed 12 of 23 passes for 209 yards and ran seven times for 10 yards.

Another quarterback, Pete Ohler of Washington, got a strong recommendation for his play in leading the Huskies to a 22-17 victory over Pitt. Playing in his first varsity game, Ohler tossed two touchdown passes, including the winner in the last period, and directed the Huskies on their other scoring thrust.

The junior from Vancouver, B.C., completed six of 11 for 188 yards, and also completed two conversion passes.

8 OSU Gridders On Injured List

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State football coach Woody Hayes now has eight front-line players sitting out practices with injuries. However, Hayes hopes all will be ready for Saturday's Big Ten opener here against Illinois.

Four were added to the ailing list Tuesday.

Left end Chuck Bryant was knocked unconscious and had to be carried off the field on a stretcher. The Zanesville senior was taken to University Hospital for a checkup.

Left tackle Bob Vogel of Massillon also was sidelined with a head injury. Defensive halfback Ed Ulmer left with a shoulder injury and Bob Klein, pre - season choice for the No. 1 right halfback post, reinjured his ankle which has sidelined him all season.

Three other top defensive men still are hurt from last week's game with UCLA — Mike Ingram, George Tolford and Bill Hess. Along with them is offensive end Bob Middleton of Marion, who suffered an injureed jaw in the UCLA game.

Every team in the National League — except San Francisco—has won the pennant since 1940 when Cincinnati last won a flag.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Driving south on Rt. 9 just north of New Garden in the swampy area, I happened to notice two blue geese sitting on the water not more than 100 ft. from the shore. I turned around and drove back for a better look and they took off. Along with the geese two mallards and six wood ducks joined the flight.

Now if these geese stick around until the 20th of this month they will become legal quarry at noon. Blue geese and snow geese are seldom ever seen in this county during the fall migration. I have been told that blue geese are poor eating, the meat being almost black and the taste very rancid. Mature blue geese are easily distinguished from all other geese as they have a white neck and a bluish gray body.

Wood ducks are fairly plentiful in this county. They can be flushed on most any puddle, stream or beaver dam. Only one wood duck per day is allowed to be taken during the open season and only one allowed in possession at any time. When flushed they let out a little squeak that sounds like "yank, yank". That is one species of ducks that do not quack.

Late in September a considerable number of waterfowl moved into the Pymatuming area. This locality is in the direct Mississippi flyway. Most of the ducks are reported to be mallards along with a large number of woodies, blacks, blue-winged teal, pintails and baldpates. There are also approximately 3,000 Canada geese among the migrating waterfowl; however they are smart enough to stay well protected in the game refuge area. They seem to know when they leave the refuge there is an army of hunters lying in wait.

There's a new booklet in circulation now similar to the Farmers Almanac that claims to be weather forecaster supreme. According to this booklet, we are in for an old-fashioned winter. The advice is to get the snow shovel all waxed and ready for some hard shoveling. Could be that we are in for a terrible winter which is one reason for the early migration of waterfowl.

All fishermen haven't given up yet. Many of those northern pike stocked in Lake Guilford are being taken by the few persistent fishermen. Fishermen are a peculiar class of sportsmen in some respects. When fishing begins to pick-up after the warm days of summer they seem to be content to store away their tackle until next spring.

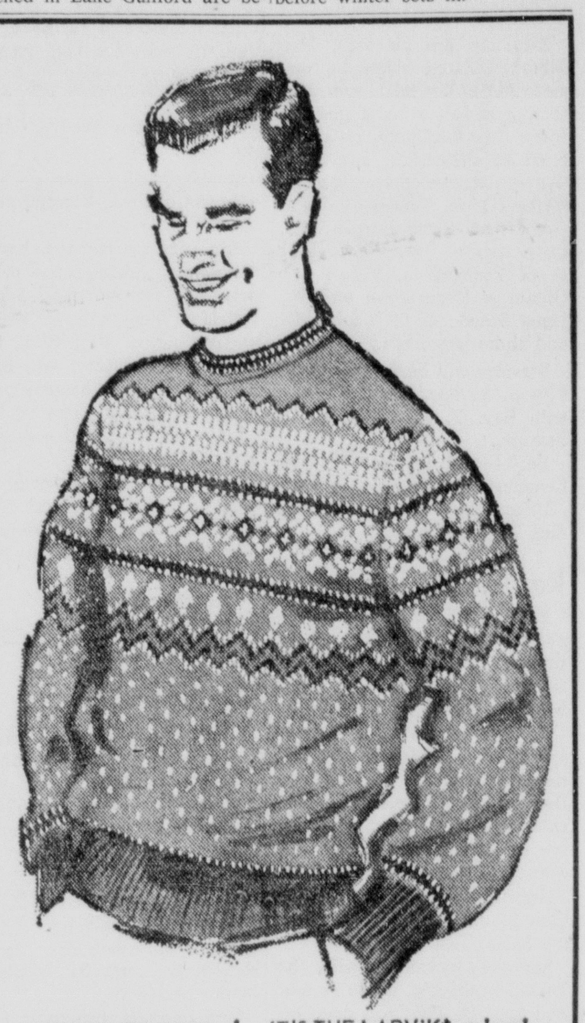

Then when the first sound of spring peepers are heard they get busy and head for the nearest stream or lake and fish for hours without getting one nibble. It must be the urge to come out of winter hibernation that governs the human conduct. I am one of those persons looking forward to spring before winter sets in.

Cincinnati Business Helped Little By Series

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 1961 World Series did not prove to be the boon to Cincinnati businessmen that some had expected.

"We did a very nice business," Joseph Lask, president of the Cincinnati Culinary Council, said when it was all over, "But it was about the same as the business we usually do during a good double-header weekend. And we had expected something a lot better than that."

Businessmen estimated about $1.5 million was spent by out-of-town visitors during the three games — considerably less than many had expected.

permits and other items would be deposited in a lake and grounds improvement fund. This money would be used for payment of all improvement costs.

Following payment of all major improvement costs, a certain percentage of the total lake income would be deposited in the lake and grounds improvement funds for the replacement of marine life, maintenance and any additional improvements. Another fixed percentage would be deposited in the water miscellaneous fund.

4. Officers for enforcing the rules and regulations shall be designated by the Utilities Commission and duly sworn in by the mayor. Hayes emphasized the importance of strict enforcement of all rules and regulations at the lake.

5. Boating would be limited to rowboats powered by either oars, paddles or sails. No gasoline motors or oil consuming equipment of any type would be allowed on the lake at any time except for departmental uses.

6. The privilege of operating the concession stand would be secured by the submitting of sealed bids at the time and place specified by the Utilities Commission.

7. The operator of the concession stand would be a duly sworn officer of the law with full authority to administer and to uphold all rules and regulations.

8. The operator of the concession stand would be given permission to sell baits, lures, fishing equipment, refreshments and rent boats supplied by the operator.

There are numerous other points in Hayes' proposed program at the city-owned lake which are designed to preserve the area and assure the absolute safety of the water supply.

Hayes proposed that water department labor be used to construct the concession building. He estimated the cost of such a building at $1,400. He said sanitary toilet facilities could be put in for approximately $780 if chemical toilets with cement tank containers are used or for $475 if a septic tank unit is installed.

Could Rescind Action

Funds for construction at the lake would come from the water department. Income from the lake would then go toward the cost of construction. "After that," Hayes commented, "the lake could provide a wonderful source of revenue for the city if it is properly controlled."

The utilities superintendent said that if the program at any time proves not to be working out to the satisfaction of Council, the ordinance could be rescinded. The concession building then could be used as a storage place for chemicals used by the water department, Hayes explained.

Council asked Hayes to check on the various permit fees charged by other lakes and then meet with the water committee of City Council to set up fees for Salem city lake if it is opened as a recreation area.

After this is accomplished, the next step would be to put the recommendations into an ordinance for Council's approval or rejection.

Three County Courts Take In $2,741

A total of $2,741.61 was paid to the county treasurer by the three county courts during September, according to Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts.

A breakdown shows $1,592.86 from fines, $831.30 in costs of traffic cases and $317.45 in civil cases costs.

The state treasurer received $1,172.34 for its 45 per cent of the state patrol fines.

The courts at Salem, East Palestine and Lisbon handled 222 criminal cases and 81 civil cases during the month.

Sheriff, constables and city police fees amounted to $311.35.

Lisbon Board Told Of Bond Promotion

LISBON — Supt. Russell Armitage last night reported to the school board on the progress being made on the $350,000 bond issue coming up Nov. 7 for building of 14 new classrooms and 2 restrooms at McKinley school.

Principal George Nace Jr. was present and discussed the annual senior trip to Washington, D.C. For the past 7 years the percentage was 59 percent and last year dropped to 29 percent. The board then decided to discontinue it as a school-sponsored event but has no objection if parents take it over.

A general check of the high school will be made for termites throughout the building, after some were found in the old shower room. The board will then decide what procedure to take after the check is made.

The board authorized the purchase of a calculator for the school for $695, less $25 for the old machine.

Rep. John W. McCormack, designated as acting speaker of the House in the illness of Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex.

McCormack has made it clear he is strongly interested in political advancement for his nephew, Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack. The acting speaker would like to get the party senatorial nomination for his favorite relative.

But Edward M. (Teddy) Kennedy, the President's youngest brother, has been acting like a potential candidate for the same nomination.

To complicate matters, Sen. Benjamin A. Smith II, D-Mass., appointed to Kennedy's seat when the latter became President, has shown signs of liking his job. The general understanding that Smith would serve only until next election might turn out to be a misunderstanding if he chooses to bid for the nomination. Whoever is elected next year will serve two unexpired years of Kennedy's term.

This three-pronged situation poses a problem for the President. He can ill-afford a Democratic squabble in his home state.

LISBON — A 19-year-old Lisbon youth was bound over to grand jury Tuesday afternoon by County Judge James L. MacDonald for breaking and entering an uninhabited building.

James R. Dillinger of S. Market St. pleaded guilty to the charge filed by Hugo Zeughardt, custodian of the Lisbon - Center Twp. dump, who claimed Dillinger broke into his tool shed last week.

3 MOTORISTS FINED

Three Salem drivers involved in traffic mishaps in the city Monday were fined yesterday by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer.

Fined were:

Donald R. Anderson, 33, 292 W. 5th St., assured clear distance, $10; Irey B. May, 62, 676 E. 3rd St., failure to yield the right of way, $10; and E. W. Rea, RD 3, assured clear distance, $10.

William Fowler, 46, of Elberton, Ga., was fined $25 and costs today by Mayor Cranmer for driving an overloaded truck.

WINDOW BROKEN

W. E. Stewart reported to police today that someone threw something through a plate glass window in his shop at the rear of 179 Hawley Ave. between 8 and 8:20 Tuesday morning.

CITY HALL TO CLOSE

Salem City Hall offices will be closed Thursday in observance of Columbus Day, Mayor Dean Cranmer announced today.

Pickering Elected By Lisbon Ruritans

LISBON — Harold Pickering, local merchant, was elected president of the Lisbon Ruritan Club Tuesday evening at the First Christian Church. He succeeds Carl Miller.

Other officers elected were Essel Hadley, vice president; the Rev. A. A. Kosower, secretary; Ray Crawford, treasurer, and Dr. Peter Cibula, director for 3-year-term.

The officers will be installed at the December meeting and will assume office Jan. 1.

State Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon was guest speaker last night and spoke on the work of the Ohio General Assembly.

Ed Sullivan and Lt. Governor James Justice, both of Greenford Ruritan Club, were special guests.

The club's next regular meeting will be ladies night Nov. 14.

Council

directing traffic at the intersection.

"I haven't seen a policeman in the downtown area for the last two years," Zimmerman remarked.

"We can sit here and pass ordinances all night," Abe commented, "but if the police department isn't going to enforce them, what good is it going to do us?"

Abe said that last year when the mayor was pressuring Council for a city weight ordinance to catch overloaded trucks, the legislators told him repeatedly that there was already sufficient legislation on the books to prevent trucks from tearing up side streets in the city.

"The only trouble was," Abe said, "our police department wasn't enforcing the laws."

Lot Policing Is Cited

Zimmerman and Donald Cannon (R. 2nd-ward) both said they were disgusted about "the poor policing job" being done at the new municipal parking lot on E. Pershing St. Both said they personally have spot-checked the lot at nights and found that a majority of the cars parked there were in stalls where the meters had expired.

Mayor Cranmer said that there would be times when it would be almost impossible to spare a policeman for directing traffic down town.

"We have one patrolman who has been sick for some time and in the mornings until 11 a.m. there is only one policeman on duty. That man has his hands full," the mayor said.

"Why isn't the chief out in the street?", Zimmerman asked. "You see it in other cities."

Police Chief Martin Lutsch said this morning that Council is using the police department as a political football. "They keep putting more ordinances on the book for us to enforce but I don't see them giving us any additional men to help enforce them," the chief remarked.

Zimmerman said there is a need to educate both drivers and pedestrians in town. "People jaywalk here all the time. I wonder when the last time was that anybody in this town was arrested for jaywalking," he mused.

Zimmerman said he believes the city needs "walk" and "don't walk" signals very badly but he said under the circumstances he wonders if anyone would pay any attention to them.

Zimmerman, who is chairman of Council's traffic and safety committee, said the mayor's proposal to install the "walk" signals is exactly like the one made by the traffic and safety committee several years ago. He said the proposal was set aside at that time because of a lack of funds.

Cost Estimate $11,000

Zimmerman said the estimated cost of installing "walk" and "don't walk" signals at that time was $11,000 for three downtown intersections.

Abe accused Mayor Cranmer of "playing politics" in bringing up the walk lights proposal at this time.

"When the income tax was passed, walk lights was the number two item on the list. It came right after street lights," Abe said. "Since the income tax was passed the mayor has been up here asking for everything but walk lights. Suddenly, a month before elections an editorial comes out in the paper saying we need walk lights and up comes the mayor beating us over the head for not giving him money we don't have for walk lights."

Mayor Cranmer said that he has gotten several letters lately urging installation of the lights. "A dangerous condition exists here," the mayor stated. "You tell me how you can put a dollars and cents value on human lives."

Fund Balance Shown

A financial report prepared for Council by Auditor Helen Coyne, revealed that the capital improvement fund from the city income tax currently has an unencumbered cash balance of $3,797.60.

The report showed that $28,564.70 has gone into the capital improvement fund to date. Encumberances and payments as of yesterday totaled $24,767.

A breakdown of expenditures from the capital improvement fund is as follows:

Street lighting appropriation — $9,000.

New police cruisers—$3,183.

Street intersections—$5,408.30.

City's share of street improvements — $7,175.80.

The financial report was requested by Council to help them decide what they can pay for equipment needed by the service department.

It was decided last night that the city should advertise for bids on two end-gate spreaders to be installed on service department trucks.

Arthur Hanna (R. at-large), chairman of Council's streets, alleys and sidewalks committee, was asked to collect more information on a loader that might be purchased by the city.

Election Board to Print Charter Text

The Columbiana County Election Board, at a meeting Tuesday night in East Liverpool, approved the location of 165 precinct polling places and completed other preparations for the general election Nov. 7.

The board authorized O'Hanlon to proceed with printing of the full text of a charter plan proposal which Salem will vote at the general election. Rather than print the full text of the measure on the ballot, the board decided to exercise the alternative of posting copies in the 23 polling places.

Establishment of 13 new precincts last summer boosted the total to 165 from 152. Boundary lines were adjusted in other precincts without raising the total. The new precincts include two in East Liverpool and one in Salem, with others scattered through the township areas.

Most of the equipment already has been delivered for the new polling places, including booths, ballot boxes and tables. The board said it expects delivery of ballots by Oct. 25 and its pollbooks are scheduled to be delivered next week.

Personnel has been appointed for each precinct. The staff will total 990, with six judges and clerks in each polling place.

To hold down on costs, the board followed its practice of locating precincts in public or semi-public buildings wherever possible, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

Youngstown Firm Low On County Road Job

Kelley & Meyer Co., Inc., of Youngstown was the apparent low bidder on a project to resurface Rt. 46 in New Waterford and widen and resurface the road from New Waterford to the Rt. 7 intersection.

The firm bid $137,311 to do the work. The state's estimate of the cost was $134,400.

The project includes replacing two old concrete bridges with wider pipe arches. Traffic will be detoured over Rt. 7 and Rt. 558.

Contracts for this and other Ohio road jobs will be awarded after study by the State Highway Department.

TRAFFIC SUIT FILED

LISBON—A suit for $50,000 for personal injuries and damages allegedly stemming from an auto accident was filed in common pleas court Tuesday by Ellsworth Moore, 1932 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool. The Sentle Trucking Company of Toledo was named the defendant in the suit.

FIREMEN ANSWER CALL

LISBON — Smoke damage was reported when village volunteer firemen were called Tuesday at 4:50 p.m. to the rear of the Beauty Lounge, 128 S. Market St. Firemen worked almost 45 minutes before they were able to locate the fire in a grate that has been boarded up.

FARM GROUP TO MEET

LISBON — The Columbiana County Extension Advisory Committee will meet Monday in the county farm extension office for the quarterly meeting. Part of the meeting will be devoted to meetings of the sub-committees, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

CITED AFTER MISHAP

Edith P. Yarwood, 36, of Winona, was cited by police for failure to yield the right of way after she was involved in a two - car accident on Filbert St. at 4:11 p.m. Tuesday. Police said she pulled out of the Bliss Co. office parking lot and hit the front end of a car operated by Robert F. Jelen, 39, of 985 Fair St.

INJURED IN FALL

Howard Rukenbrod, Sr., 59, was treated at Central Clinic for a cut on the back of his head which he suffered when he fell while walking up the front steps at the home of his son at 730 N. Lincoln Ave. at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. He was released after treatment.

Allies

American troops rushed through the streets of West Berlin this morning to test their operational readiness.

Called out at 8:05 a.m., just as the day's routine got under way, the men of the 18th Infantry 1st Battle Group grabbed their arms and deployed to various points in the neighborhood of their barracks.

Allied units are liable to be called out on such operational tests at any time of the day or night.

Some 500 U.S. soldiers docked in France today to reinforce Western Europe's defenses in the face of the Berlin crisis. The troops arrived at Cherbourg aboard the military transport Gen. Simon B. Buckner.

They were to move by train to bases in southwestern France while the Buckner continues to Bremerhaven, Germany, to unload another contingent.

U.S. officials said the troops are the vanguard of more than 5,000 recently ordered to Western Europe by the Defense Department.

FINED AT LISBON

LISBON — One motorist was fined for failing to signal a turn at a hearing Tuesday before County Judge James L. MacDonald and another forfeited bond when he failed to appear on a charge of speeding.

Reese J. Lewis, 22, Lisbon RD 3, was fined $5 and costs and Rudolph Stocko, 41, Mogodore, $15 bond. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Pacific Paradise Loaf Will Make Hit

A peek through the window reveals an elegant cake just fresh from the oven that's absolutely irrestible! Pacific paradise loaf may truly be described as "out of this world."

The chocolate-filled three layer coconut loaf cake, made from a cake mix that has toasted coconut right in it, is just perfect for that special occasion.

Bake toasted coconut cake mix in greased and floured jelly roll pan, 15½x10½x1", for 22 to 28 minutes. Cool. Cut into three 10x5" pieces.

Cook 1 pkg. chocolate pudding with 1 tsp. gelatin, reducing milk to 1¾ cups. Cool thoroughly. Use as filling between pieces of cake.

Frost cake with whipped cream mixture (below). Decorate top with ½ cup toasted coconut. Chill.

Whipped Cream Mixture: Whip 1½ cups whipping cream with ¼ cup sifted confectioners' sugar until stiff. Fold in 2 tsp. gelatin which has been dissolved in 2 tbsp. warm water.

Orange Fritters

3-4 cup pancake mix, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 egg (well beaten), 2-3 cup milk, 3 medium-sized oranges (peeled and sectioned), confectioners' sugar.

Stir together the pancake mix and salt; add egg and milk; stir well; batter will be slightly lumpy.

Roll orange sections in sugar, then dip in batter. Fry fritters in hot (350 degrees) ½-inch deep fat until golden brown — about 1 minute on each side.

Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle with sugar; serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

Two-Cheese Polenta

1½ cups enriched white cornmeal, 1 teaspoon salt, 7 ounces Gouda cheese, Butter and grated Parmesan cheese.

Mix the cornmeal and salt with 2 cups cold water. Stirring constantly, add to 1 quart boiling water in a large saucepan.

Cook until thickened, stirring often. Cover; continue cooking over low heat about 10 minutes or until very thick.

Meanwhile grate cheese coarsely — there should be 2 cups very lightly packed. Add grated Gouda to hot cooked cornmeal; stir until melted.

Turn into jellyroll pan (15 by 10 by 1 inch) that has been rinsed with cold water; chill thoroughly. Cut into small squares; place ½-inch apart on jellyroll pan.

Dot with butter and sprinkle with cheese. Broil until hot through and browned. Makes 12 servings.

The ancestors of today's Bretons fled to Brittany, France, from Cornwall, Ireland, and Wales during the 5th and 6th Century invasions by Angles and Saxons of Great Britain.

Forget Guilt; Enjoy Dessert

Petite and pert Helen McCully recently finished a most pleasurable task. She ate her way through hundreds of desserts, in preparation for writing a cook book, and didn't gain a pound.

Co-author with Eleanor Noderer of "Just Desserts," (Obolensky, $4.95), Helen McCully explains, "I feel one dessert a day is my right—and I'm never guilty about enjoying it.

"America has the biggest sweet tooth in the world. And what's wrong with this appreciation of delectable desserts?" Miss Mcnully asks. "What gets us into trouble is our terrific guilt about enjoying sweets. So many women go round and round in a vicious circle of guilty feelings, crash diets and food binges.

"If you gain a few pounds, walk an extra mile, climb an extra hill, play an extra game of golf or tennis. Exercise is a weight-watcher's best friend.

"Unless you're on a doctor's diet, don't cut out your favorite foods. Learn the art of relishing small portions and give up second helpings." This is how Helen McCully keeps her own figure attractively trim.

Another trick this dessert expert has discovered: "If you serve Chocolate Fudge Pie—and the recipe for it in our cook book is very rich, very good—precede it with foods only reasonably rich in calories. Plan backwards! It's fun, and really a practical way of working out a well-balanced menu."

Now a food consultant, Helen McCully made a superlative contribution during the 13 years she edited the food pages of a well-known woman's magazine. How, as then, her recipes have true distinction, invaluable clarity—and asides.

She says she started adding the asides the day she watched a magazine beauty editor try to bake a cake in between telephone calls, brewing coffee, lighting cigarettes and making up her eyes. That was when she decided to add precautions to recipes and rewrote a cake rule like this: "When you start mixing this batter, get going! Don't fool around!"

"Just Dessert" is every good cook's just dessert. The best lemon souffle recipe we know comes from it:

HELEN McCULLY'S LEMON SOUFFLE

1 cup milk, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, Dash salt, 3 eggs, 1 egg white, Grated rind and juice of 1 lemon, 1-3 cup sugar.

Start your oven at 350 F., or moderate. Butter a 1½ quart souffle dish or straight-sided casserole and coat with a sprinkling of granulated sugar.

Heat milk until a film shines over the surface.

In the top of a double boiler melt butter over direct heat. Stir in flour smoothly and add a dash of salt.

Gradually pour in hot milk. Set over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thick as mayonnaise. Remove from heat.

Separate egg yolks from egg whites. Beat yolks vigorously with a rotary or electric beater until thick and light in color. Beat in grated lemon rind and juice thoroughly.

Stir into flour-milk mixture slowly. This is the base of your souffle and can be made ahead of time.

Beat egg whites until they begin to hold a shape. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until mixture holds definite points but is not dry. Fold in lemon combination very gently and pour into souffle dish.

Bake 30 to 35 minutes, or until souffle puffs up high and the top is golden brown. Serve immediately to 4.

Shrimp Toast

6 slices sandwich bread, ½ pound cooked shrimp, finely chopped, ¼ pound fat pork, finely chopped, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 teaspoon each salt and sugar, ½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 2 eggs (slightly beaten), fine dry cread crumbs.

Trim crusts from bread; spread slices out to dry for a while. Mix all the remaining ingredients except the bread crumbs. Spread the mixture over the bread; sprinkle with bread crumbs.

Cut each slice into 4 squares or triangles. Heat 2 cups cooking oil to 375 degrees. Fry toasts, shrimp side down, until golden brown; turn and fry other side.

Drain on paper; cool slightly to crisp; serve at once.

Blueberry Pie

¾ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 4 cups blueberries, Pastry for 9-inch double-crust pie, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine.

Mix together the sugar, salt and tapioca; mix with berries. Roll out half the pastry dough and fit into pie pan; fill with berry mixture; dot with butter.

Roll out remaining pastry so it is 1 inch larger than pie plate; fit over berries; tuck edge under and flute and seal.

Cut about 6 gashes in center of top postry; open slits thoroughly with knife. Freeze, wrapped appropriately.

Bake unthawed in hot (400 degrees) oven about 1 hour and 10 or 15 minutes. Serve warm with vanilla ice cream.

Amherst Scallops Brochette

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

New Englanders are artists in preparing sea scallops from the deep coastal waters. We tasted the proof in beautiful Lord Jeffery Inn on the elm-lined campus of Amherst College.

Norman Enman, the manager, served us a Massachusetts dinner in the Georgian dining room dominated by Lord Jeffery Amherst's portrait.

We had Scallops en Brochette, delicately browned, sweet and tender, served with sliced tomatoes and old-fashioned potato salad. Enman gave us these instructions:

SCALLOPS EN BROCHETTE

Use 9 to 10 sea scallops for each serving. (Cape or bay scallops may be used. However, they tend to shrink under high heat of broiler). Use 2 skewers and oil and seasoned bread crumbs.

Place scallops on two skewers. Dip in oil and then in seasoned bread crumbs. Rest the two skewers side by side, about ½-inch apart, across a pan in which a little water has been placed.

Broil about 5 minutes on each side. If they start to brown too fast, finish cooking in moderate oven for 10 minutes. Serve with tartar sauce.

Rich, brown, Baked Indian Pudding, served hot in parfait glass, with ice cream topping, ended our lordly meal.

LORD JEFFERY BAKED INDIAN PUDDING

1 quart milk, 5 tablespoons yellow cornmeal, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ cup brown or white sugar, ½ cup dark molasses, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon ginger, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ teaspoon mace, 2 eggs, well-beaten, 1 cup light cream.

Bring the milk slowly to a boil in top of a double boiler over direct heat. Slowly add 5 tablespoons of corn meal, stirring all the while.

Put over boiling water and cook for 20 minutes, stirring occassionally. Add 2 tablespoons of butter, ½ cup of sugar, and ½ cup of molasses.

Remove from fire and add 1 teaspoon of salt and ½ teaspoon each of ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg, and mace. Blend in 2 well-beaten eggs.

Put into a buttered baking dish. Bake uncovered in a slow oven at 300 degrees F. for 2 to 2½ hours.

Stir occasionally the first hour; then carefully pour 1 cup of cold cream over the top and finish baking without stirring. Serve hot or warm with cream or vanilla ice cream.

Note: The longer the pudding is cooked, the darker it gets and therefore, better.

THE BEST IN QUALITY BEEF . . .

TENDERAY BEEF

KROGER TENDERAY BRAND BEEF

Here is truly the "royalty" of all beef . . . especially selected by Kroger meat experts from the finest grain-fed steers, all government graded "choice" quality. Then our famous "Tenderay" process takes over and assures you FRESH and TENDER beef, without wasteful ageing. Millions of satisfied Kroger shoppers serve only super-tender, extra-fresh TENDERAY Beef, "Kroger-cut" to eliminate unnecessary waste before you buy. So if you want the finest beef on your table, look for the "TENDERAY" seal in our meat cases . . . you'll be assured of the tenderest, most delicious beef you've ever served!

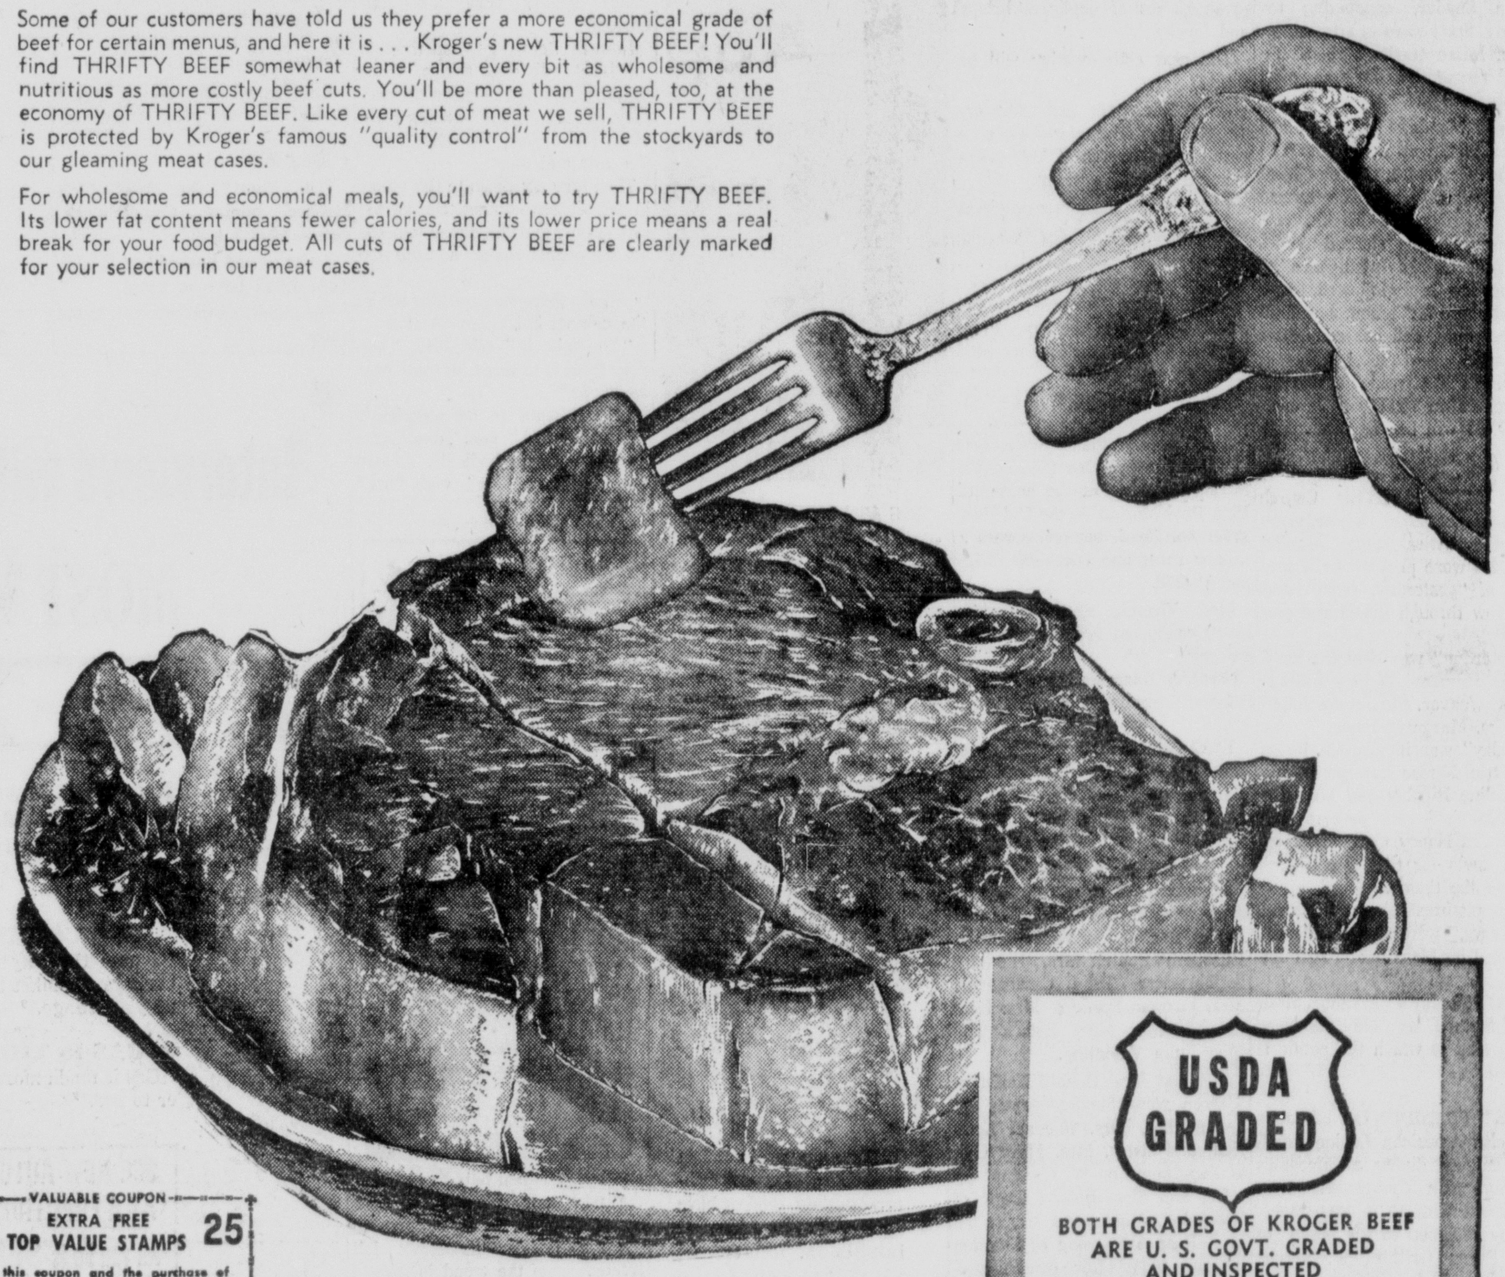

THE BEST IN LEAN ECONOMICAL BEEF

THRIFTY BEEF

THRIFTY

Some of our customers have told us they prefer a more economical grade of beef for certain menus, and here it is . . . Kroger's new THRIFTY BEEF! You'll find THRIFTY BEEF somewhat leaner and every bit as wholesome and nutritious as more costly beef cuts. You'll be more than pleased, too, at the economy of THRIFTY BEEF. Like every cut of meat we sell, THRIFTY BEEF is protected by Kroger's famous "quality control" from the stockyards to our gleaming meat cases.

For wholesome and economical meals, you'll want to try THRIFTY BEEF. Its lower fat content means fewer calories, and its lower price means a real break for your food budget. All cuts of THRIFTY BEEF are clearly marked for your selection in our meat cases.

54 Million On Job In September

Employment of Wage, Salary Workers Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) —Employment of wage and salary workers in the United States reached 53,900,000 in September, the highest figure for any month, the Labor Department said today.

Total employment, which includes the self-employed and others, however, dropped 1.5 million from August, to about 67 million. The Labor Department said the drop was due mainly to the return to school of young workers who left summer jobs.

Unemployment dropped 450,000 to 4.1 million, but the Labor Department said the decline was mostly seasonal.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said the total of employed was about 200,000 above the previous record, set in September 1960, and 2.6 million above the level in February, when economists say the recession hit bottom.

Seymour Wolfbein, Labor Department manpower expert, said the employment figure for September would have been higher except for the strikes in General Motors auto plants last week.

Discounting the affect of Hurricane Carla, and the Jewish religious holidays which also took place during the week surveyed, Goldberg said the factory work week, seasonally adjusted, was up a full hour since February and the weekly earnings of factory workers were up almost $2.50 during the period.

Wolfbein said that, primarily due to the auto strike, weather factors, and the religious holidays, there was a dip in the average work week in manufacturing industries from 40.1 hours in August to 39.6 hours in September.

The unemployment rate has held fairly steady for the past 10 months, hovering at or slightly below 7 per cent of the labor force.

During September, Wolfbein said, there was a marked decrease in long-term unemployment. The number of workers without jobs for 15 weeks or more dropped from 1,194,000 in August to 1,067,000 in September and those unemployed for 27 weeks or more declined from 1,917,000 to 1,405,000.

Lisbon Social

The Lincoln School Parent - Teacher Assn. met Monday night at the school with the president, John Snyder, conducting the meeting. Sixty were in attendance.

Mrs. Milan Garick's room received recognition for the most parents present.

Cornell Monda, Lisbon school psychologist, was the principal speaker. He gave a talk on "What is Intelligence" and "The Current Testing Program". To illustrate his discussion he showed slides on "Your Child's Intelligence".

Nov. 13 will be the next meeting.

-:-

ST. JACOB'S UNITED Church of Christ continued its sesquicentennial activities Sunday evening when 275 were present for a program of "yesterday, today and tomorrow through music and pictures."

"Yesterday" was depicted by a quartet composed of Guy Frantz, Marion Weaver, Mrs. Anna Aiken and Mrs. Margaret Jones.

"Today" was illustrated by a girl's trio. Misses Kathryn Bailey, Jacqueline Hippley and Mrs. Edward Mitchell took part in this.

Joy and Nancy Cook presented vocal duets for the "Tomorrow" part of the theme.

Slide pictures in color "Through the Years," were shown and were narrated by Mrs. Jean Fager Sitler.

Next Sunday's evening affair will feature an old fashioned hymn sing to which the public is invited.

PAST PRESIDENTS of John J. Welsh American Legion Auxiliary enjoyed dinner at Morgan's Restaurant in Youngstown Monday night with 10 in attendance.

They returned to the home of Mrs. Byron Griffith, W. Spruce St., where Mrs. Griffith, president, conducted a short business meeting.

The group decided in conjunction with its child welfare work to help a needy Lisbon family.

Mrs. Galen Kenty of Fairfield Road will receive the group Nov. 13.

Two tables of 500 were in play when Mrs. Victor Williams received associates of the Victory Club Monday night at her home on S. Lincoln Ave.

Prizes were awarded Mrs. Robert Stacey and Mrs. Marion Figley. Mrs. Williams served lunch.

Oct. 23 is the date of the next club meeting with Mrs. John Chillik of Lisbon-Salem Road.

-:-

MEMBERS OF THE El Ocho Club were entertained Monday night by Mrs. Ray Alexander of Lincoln Highway, west, and enjoyed games of duplicate bridge and lunch.

The next club meeting will be Oct. 23.

Job's Daughters met Monday night at the Masonic Temple with Miss Gloria Dell Tritten, honored queen, presiding.

Plans were made to purchase Job's Daughters sweat-shirts for the group.

Oct. 29 was set as going - to - church Sunday. The group will attend services at the First Presbyterian Church, the honored queen's home church.

The next meeting will be Oct. 23.

The Young Women's Bible Class of First Presbyterian Church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Morlan on the Old East Liverpool Road, beginning with a wiener roast and coverdish supper at 6:30.

Mrs. Virginia McCune, president, conducted a short business meeting.

Mrs. Al Hartman of Fairfield Road will entertain Nov. 13.

Rainbow In The Room

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It was raining outside their small apartment, and she felt nervous.

"I'm not kidding about the divorce—this time I really am going through with it," said Ella. "The way you acted at the party last night! What were you trying to celebrate so hard?"

"Never mind," said Tom. "If you want the divorce, you can have it. I'll give you half my salary. What'll we do about the bank account?"

"There's only $12 left in it," replied Ella.

"Okay," said Tom. "It's yours. Now what'll we do about the things in the apartment?"

Ella looked at him uncertainly for a moment, then said decisively:

"Let's divide them—since you're being so nice about the money. You choose first."

"Okay, I'll take your twin bed; it's more comfortable."

"Big man!" said Ella. "I'll take the other bed. Shall we divide the dressers—you take yours, I'll take mine? Right? Now it's your choice."

Item by item they went through the house, dividing things. When the furniture had all been divided, they started on the wedding presents, the dishes, the silverware, the pots and pans.

Then they got down to the things in the kitchen cabinet. He got the salt shaker and the cinnamon, she got the pepper shaker and the nutmeg.

Finally there was nothing left in the cabinet but a box of rice.

"You take it," said Ella. "You may need it to throw at your next wedding."

"No, I want to be completely fair about this," said Tom. Grain by grain, he methodically divided the rice into "his" and "her" piles, saying as he did so, "She loves me—she loves me not."

"Well, that was certainly a silly performance," said Ella, when he finished. "I guess that winds it up."

"No," said Tom. "There's one thing left—and I don't see just how we can divide it."

"What do you mean?"

"Well, you were so upset when you came home from the doctor's yesterday, that I went down to the corner and called him, and he told me he was pretty sure that—"

"I didn't want to tell you because he wasn't exactly certain," said Ella, "and we both wanted this so much, and—"

"When I talked to him he seemed pretty sure," said Tom.

"Is that what you were celebrating last night?" asked Ella.

"What else?"

Ella leaned over the table and pushed the two piles of rice together into one big pile. Then she walked to the window.

"Oh, Tom!" she cried. "It's stopped raining. Come quick. Guess what I see!"

As he moved toward her in love, Tom didn't have to guess.

He could feel the rainbow in the room.

Beauty A La Mode

FALL HAIR FASHIONS

Women need no longer worry about ruining their coiffures by wearing hats. The millinery industry has been keeping its eye on the latest fall hair styles and has designed hats to embrace the new hair shapes. The hair styles themselves are influenced by the fashion industry's fall trends. Since the trend is toward eased and flared lines, hairdos are coordinated with gentle bouffancy for height and sides that wing out.

Since hats and hair just naturally go together, consider the importance of a new hairdo now.

MOST WOMEN WANT GAS RANGES

☆ ☆ ☆ WHAT WOMEN SAID ☆ ☆ ☆

1. GAS IS MORE CONTROLLABLE
"If I want a shade less heat to stop butter from browning, I can lower it instantly with gas."

2. GAS COOKING IS CLEANER
"I hate the way heat hangs on in other burners. It makes things boil over and mess up your range."

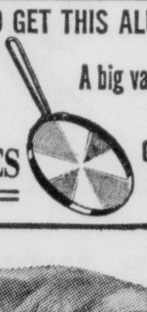

3. GAS IS THRIFTIER
"Gas is much more reliable, and it's cheaper to use."

4. GAS IS EASIER TO COOK WITH
"I can see the flame go up and down. It makes regulating heat easier."

5. GAS IS FASTER
"I simply haven't time to wait several minutes to start cooking a 3-minute egg."

6. GAS COOKS BETTER
"My husband, who's a real 'meat and potato' man, won't let me consider broiling with anything but gas."

A Florida Rice-Shrimp Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Some of the most interesting regional cookery that we've found goes on in Florida.

At Key Largo we tasted fish stew with malanga, the vegetable sometimes described as looking like a cross between a sweet potato and a Jerusalem artichoke.

Smoked fish was a savory delight from Fort Pierce.

Look into Florida cook books. You'll find recipes for jellies from tamarinds, loquats and kumquats; chutneys from mangoes; turtle steaks prepared various ways; salads from hearts of palm and stone crab; fresh coconut ice cream.

Enough to make enterprising cooks envious!

Fortunately there are many dishes featured in Florida that may be prepared in any state. Here are three we relished.

In Tampa we feasted on that homely but heavenly combination of steamed rice and back beans topped with freshly minced onion.

Up and down the Keys we tried the lime pies.

In Key West we discovered yellow rice and shrimp and searched out the following recipe for the dish.

What else on the menu? A salad of crisp greens with whole green olives added. Maybe hot garlic bread.

YELLOW RICE AND SHRIMP

2 tablespoons olive oil, 1 small onion (diced), ½ green pepper (diced), 1 or 2 cloves garlic (crushed), 2 packages (7 ounces each) peeled, deveined frozen shrimp, 1 cup converted-type rice, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon each dried thyme and powered saffron, 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, 2 cups water, 1 jar (4 ounces) pimientos, 1 can (1 lb., 1 ounce) very small green peas.

Heat oil in a large skillet and slowly cook onion, green pepper and garlic in it until onion is yellowed.

Add shrimp and heat to remove glaze on each shrimp. Mix in rice, salt, thyme, saffron, tomatoes, and water.

Cook, covered, over medium-low heat until rice is cooked through and all the liquid is absorbed—20 to 25 minutes.

Mix in drained pimientos, cut in strips, and turn into serving dish. Surround with heated drained peas. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Chocochip Cookies

1½ cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon each baking powder and salt, 1 cup butter or margarine, 3-4 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed, ½ cup granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon warm water, 1½ cups quick-cooking rolled oats, 6 ounces (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces.

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, with sugars and vanilla. Beat in eggs thoroughly, one at a time.

Add sifted dry ingredients and beat well; stir in water, then oats and chocolate. Drop heaping teaspoons of mixture, several inches apart, onto ungreased cookie sheets.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 10 to 12 minutes.

Mary's Salad

3 cups torn romaine or other lettuce (lightly packed), ½ cup thinly sliced celery, ¼ cup minced parsley, 2-3 cup Swiss cheese strips, 2-3 cup baked ham strips, 3 tablespoons olive oil, 2 tablespoons garlic-flavored vinegar, 1 tablespoon chopped chives, 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese.

Arrange the romaine, celery, parsley, cheese and ham in a salad bowl; cover tightly and refrigerate. At serving time mix well with the oil, vinegar, chives and cheese.

The ham will probably provide enough salt; if not, add salt and pepper to taste. Makes 2 main-course servings.

Hanoverton

Lee Cole, a recent paitent at Crile's Veteran hospital, returned to his home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Raley visited their son, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Raley of Westerville recently.

Miss Betty Loudon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Loudon, has enrolled in the White School of Beauty Culture, at Cleveland.

Misses Mary Hole of Akron and Betty Allaman of Dayton are visiting here in Miss Hole's home.

Prize winners at the card party held in the parish hall were Mrs. C. H. Sloss, William Woolf, Mrs. Mancil Ridgeway, Herbert Seachrist and Mrs. William Humphrey. Lunch was served by Miss Dorothy Mundy and her committee.

Fall flower bouquets decorated the room when the Hanoverton Rainbow Girls Assembly met recently. Eighty five members, and visitors were in attendance. Miss Patty Gamble, worthy advisor, presided. A report from the project committee was made. Mrs. Bernice Arter, mother advisor, commended the officers on their work. Next regular meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 17. Lunch was served in the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gates of Lisbon were hosts in their home to the members of the Challenger Class of the Presbyterian Church recently. Mrs. Howard Blanchard presided. A letter was read from Rev. and Mrs. Webb, missionaries at Sudan, Africa, conveying thanks to the group for a recent subscription of the Saturday Evening Post, sent to the Mission.

Presbyterian Women Guild met with Mrs. Karl Stoudt recently. The topic "God's plan in our Hands" was used for the devotional program, conducted by Mrs. Van Mills and Mrs. Herman McDevitt. Mrs. Paul Clapsaddle led the Bible study. Mrs. Robert Ward presided for the business session, at which annual election of officers was held. Elected were: president, Mrs. Wayne Hillyer; vice president, Mrs. Walter Watson; secretary, Mrs. Raymond Russell; assistant secretary, Mrs. John Borter; treasurer, Mrs. Homer Temple; Bible study for the year, Mrs. Herbert McClure and nominating committee for the 63 officers, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Russell. Plans were made for a penny supper, for Oct. 21. A white elephant sale was held prior to the serving of lunch by the hosts Mrs. Stoudt, Mrs. Charles Schmid and Mrs. Carl Farmer.

Mrs. Bessie Guthrie recently visited at Gettysburg, Pa., with her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sumner of Twin Lakes.

New Alexander

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kennedy of Carrollton and grandson, Keith Kennedy of Allentown, Pa., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark.

Glenn McNeelan of Salem and Miss Helen Crist of Alliance were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Mason.

Mrs. Lena Summer and Camille Mason entertained the Sit and Chatter Club at their home. Mrs. Irene Heim was a guest. Dinner was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. James Brumbaugh of Hartville visited Sunday with Mrs. C. G. Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Norris and family of Elyria were weekend guests of Mr. and Ms. C. D. Ruff.

Keith Wigal of Manchester was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark.

Dr. Martin Schwarzschild of Princeton University reported recently that gravitational studies indicate there is far more matter in the universe than can be accounted for by visible stars. He believes the unseen matter may consist of "cool" stars whose light is too dim to penetrate the earth's atmosphere.

WHY...

WHY are some people urging the federal government to spend billions more on electric power plants when the federal budget is already hard pressed to meet the nation's defense needs?

WHY are some people trying to get the government to spend money needlessly on federal electric transmission lines instead of using existing and planned facilities of the investor-owned electric light and power companies?

WHY do certain pressure groups keep pushing for more federal government electricity when the electric light and power companies can supply all the power the nation will ever need?

WHY should the federal government spend money needlessly when it can get money instead—through the additional taxes the investor-owned electric companies will produce if they supply all of the power for the future?

WHY should the federal government ever waste its effort on jobs American industry can do better, especially when there are so many other problems in the country and the world that only the government can deal with?

The answers to all of these questions are important to you—because they can help curb further waste of your tax money.

I DON'T MISS ANYTHING!

Confidentially, the reason I'm always "in the know" on who is doing what when, where, how and why is that I read my newspaper regularly and very thoroughly!

Your quickest, easiest way to get the most complete and accurate knowledge of what is going on in the world (and out of it) is to follow the example of this little lady and read your newspaper thoroughly, thoughtfully. The latest happening across town . . . the momentous event across the world . . . the newest satellite circling high above it . . . you can "read all about it" at your own convenience, at any hour of the day or night, at your home, office or on the bus . . . in your newspaper!

Warren Public Sewer Project To Begin Again

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Work on a $4.4 million public sewer job halted before Labor Day was expected to resume today.

Two Michigan contractors for the project—Rocco Ferrare Construction Co. of Detroit and the Boam Construction Co. of Livonia — made the announcement Tuesday. They said they expected their full work force back by next week.

The Trumbull County grand jury investigated the work stoppage and subsequently indicted seven men in an alleged shakedown of contractors on city sewer projects.

The charges ranged from extortion to perjury.

The contractors said internal problems caused the work stoppage. City officials had requested they resume construction.

With The Patients

Mrs. Herbert Steinbaugh of S. Lincoln Ave., Lisbon, is in good condition at Salem City Hospital with a fractured right ankle, which she suffered at her home.

Technicality Snags Alley Abandonment

A technicality in the preparation of an ordinance which was to be considered at a special meeting of City Council last night prevented the legislators from giving their approval to the abandonment of Apple Alley from Columbia St. to Peach Alley.

Another special meeting has been called for 7 tonight to try again to get the ordinance passed.

The ordinance read that the abandonment of Apple Alley had been approved by the Planning Commission. Council said it has no formal notice that the Planning Commission has given such approval.

Mayor Dean Cranmer said he would get a letter from the Planning Commission today stating their approval. Cranmer, who is a member of the Planning Commission, said that group informally approved the abandonment of Apple Alley at its last meeting.

No one has voiced any opposition to the proposed ordinance. The legislation was requested by Ralph A. Durbin, the contractor who will build the city's new post office. Apple Alley runs through the site where the structure is to be built, and Durbin said he will not start the project until the city vacates the alley.

United School Bond Issue Discussed At PTA Meeting

The United School PTA met Monday in the high school auditorium with the president, William Maple, presiding.

The $259,000 proposed bond issue for the construction of a new elementary school across the road from the present school plant was discussed. Supt. Dale W. Gates, who had charge of the program, introduced Frank Solak, principal of United High School, who explained the shortage of rooms in the high school and predicted the needs for 1964. Principal Peter Marra discussed conditions in the elementary school.

George Smith, architect of Youngstown, spoke concerning the proposed building and the reasons for the location.

Mr. Maple announced that the annual school fair would be Oct. 28, beginning at 4 p.m. with a chili and oyster supper. The executive committee meeting will be held Nov. 8 and the next regular PTA meeting Nov. 13. Mrs. August reported that to date there are 374 members. Mrs. Bernice Arter is program chairman.

Robert Myers, clerk of the Board, explained the duties of the clerk and the legal requirements of the state foundation program. Mr. Gates spoke about school issues in the county and surrounding districts and enumerated the cost per day of educating a child at the United School.

After a question and answer period conducted by Mr. Gates, Mrs. Bernice Arter introduced the candidates for the Board of Education. Those up for re-election are Howard Blanchard, Willard Cope, and Elmer Stamp, and those candidates for the first time are Paul Gipp, Milton Steiner, and Mrs. Dorothy Ward. Each spoke briefly.

Mr. Maple appointed a committee consisting of Ernest Moser, Rev. C. D. Read, and Richard T. Speidel as PTA members to draft a letter to be attached to the report to the people being prepared by the school board on the bond issue summarizing the views discussed at this meeting and endorsing the bond issue.

Library At Leetonia Gets Special Books

LEETONIA—The Leetonia High School Library now has the Traveling High School Science Library which consists of 100 books loaned to the library for a period of one year.

The Traveling Library is administered by the American Associationof Advanced Science, an agency of the US government.

These books were chosen primarily for the academically-talented student who has the interest and initiative to go beyond his routine textbook assignment. The books were also selected because of their interest to the reader who has a limited science background.

The list includes science books as well as mathematics, archeology, architecture, atomic energy etc.

memo to advertisers

People who pay to shop

Most retailers, we suspect, would shudder at the idea of charging customers an admission fee to shop in their stores.

Yet, we do it regularly. Readers buy this paper for the news and features, but they also buy it to see your advertising. They want to know what you are selling, what your prices are, and compare this with what another merchant is advertising.

Readers are shoppers, and people who pay to shop, shop to buy.

Your advertising reaches them as an invited guest. They study it at their leisure, and they will respond if what you have to say interests them.

Who measures this paying audience?

As members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, we submit our circulation records to regular inspection by traveling ABC auditors. This is an organization of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers, whose sole purpose is to give accurate and factual circulation reports.

ABC measures our circulation audience, in accordance with the highest industry standards.

Its reports tell how many shoppers buy our paper, where they buy it, what they pay, and many other facts to help you know our paying audience.

For full details on the people who pay to shop, ask to see a copy of our latest ABC report.
